Some American Pilots

Are Still Being Held

By N. Viets . . . Gilman

By LYNN MULVANEY

WASHINGTON, D.C.
(Special to The Daily Freeman)

That eight to ten American pilots are still being held prisoners of war by North Vietnam, was revealed to Congressman Benjamin A. Gilman (R-26 Dist.) by Gen. Vang Pao during Gilman's recent four-day visit in Southeast Asia.

During a press conference Tuesday, the congressman said he conferred last week with the commanding officer of the military region II who is also commander of the guerrilla army at Long Thien, headquarters for the rescue and search operations for American men missing in action.

The general told Gilman he had reliable information from "confidential intelligence sources" that there are still eight to ten American pilots being held as prisoners by the North Vietnamese. The general didn't reveal where they are, but implied that they have been taken to North Vietnam.

Gilman, while impressed with the "capability, figure and thoroughness of the American 'search team', nevertheless cautions the families of missing men to be wary of raising their hopes, since there is no substantiation of the reports at this time. And, he said, even if these facts are eventually corroborated, the prospects of any repatriation are not encouraging.

Meanwhile Gilman is asking the State Department to fully pursue and investigate the matter.

"As long as the families of 1,156 American soldiers are left in a state of uncertainty, as long as known grave sites, capture sites and crash sites go uninvestigated, we must keep alive our concern and maintain full efforts on all fronts," he said. "We can do no less for those who gave so much."

U.S. civilian still missing after Red Chinese attack on Faracel Islands. Story page 36.

The Middletown congressman, who represents three towns in Southern Ulster County, left the United States Jan. 6 for Taiwan and Vietnam and returned Jan. 19.

While in Vietnam he also met with others who are trying to get information relative to MIA's.

Regarding the ten pilots, he said there was little additional information, no identification and no inkling of their physical condition. It was indicated that apparently the pilots, who are thought to be young, appear to be cooperative in divulging information to the North Vietnamese and "that is why they are being held," a spokesman from Gilman's office said today.

While in Laos, Gilman met with Soth Thetrasy the representative of Paphet Lao the communist guerrilla organization who talked to the congressman about the MIA's but gave Gilman the feeling that he was being politely put-off.

Gilman learned that a full time search is going to have to wait until final formation of a coalition government in order to assure search teams that are in what now are combat areas.

Gilman said Vu Thein, first consul of the North Vietnam Embassy, was equally polite, saying he didn't see much hope for progress in the effort to account for the missing in view of the lack of progress to date and because of what he called the failure to release about 200,000 political prisoners who he alleges are being held by the South Vietnamese.

Gilman also met with search teams which have been fired upon by Communists despite two weeks notice of a search being given.

Allied officials claim there are 1,077 crash sites (where American planes went down), 434 capture sites and 49 known grave sites. The total missing amounts to 1,156 plus 1,226 considered officially dead, whose bodies have never been recovered for a complete total of 2,382. Of this number, 993 are in Vietnam and 309 in Laos, Gilman explained.

Gilman held his overseas conferences in Long Thien, headquarters for the rescue and search operations for American MIA's.

Snow Causes Derailment

Penn Central locomotive 2100 made an unscheduled stop Monday afternoon in Boiceville when the train, pulling 12 cars, struck snow and ice packed down at a crossing by snowmobiles, according to rail officials. The engine and two cars which were derailed were scheduled to be put back on the tracks today. No injuries were reported. The train was reportedly going about eight miles per hour at the time. (Freeman Photo by Haines)

Crash Energy Plan, Oil Price Rollback

(Combined Wire Services)

WASHINGTON — In an all-out drive to make the United States self-sufficient in energy by the 1980's, President Nixon today asked Congress to approve spending more than $1.8 billion next fiscal year for a crash program to promote use of coal, oil shale, and nuclear power.

Nixon also asked the lawmakers to de-regulate the wellhead price of natural gas, an action expected to trigger a sharp rise in the retail price of natural gas now used to heat more than half the nation's homes.

But in a special energy message to Congress, Nixon also urged legislators to act speedily on his version of windfall tax legislation designed to force the oil industry to pump some profits from oil price rises back into oil exploration programs.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said Tuesday he expects the Arab oil embargo—a big factor in the U.S. energy shortage—to be lifted before Egyptian and Israeli forces complete their 40-day disengagement of forces, which is to begin Friday.

Kissinger, who helped negotiate the troop agreement, said was reported by Jackson to failure of the Arabs to lift the embargo "in a reasonable time" would raise "serious questions of confidence in our minds."

Energy official feels lifting embargo is not immediate solution to U.S. problem. Story Page 23.

Without mentioning the oil embargo specifically, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat said in Algiers, Tuesday that U.S. policy has become more fair to the Arabs than in the past and, "Now that the Americans have made a gesture, the Arabs should make one, too."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., reported today the administration is considering rolling back prices on domestic production.

Jackson, one of the most influential Congress members in the energy field, emerged from a meeting of Nixon and bipartisan Senate-House leaders to report a price rollback as a possibility.

William E. Simon, the administration's energy policy chief, said was reported by Jackson to failure of the Arabs to lift the embargo "in a reasonable time" would raise "serious questions of confidence in our minds."

Jackson conceded legislation would be needed to cut the prices on output from stripper wells producing no more than 10 barrels a day.

In New York, Exxon Corp., the nation's largest oil company, estimated today that its profits in the final three months of 1973 were almost 60 per cent higher than the same period of 1972.

Profits for the final quarter of 1973 were $784 million compared to earnings of $493 million in the same period in 1972, a spokesman said.

The international refiner said its profits for all of 1973 also showed an increase of almost 60 per cent at $2.44 billion, or $10.89 per share of common stock.

J.K. Jamieson, Exxon chairman, said the company earned about 1.9 cents for each gallon of gasoline and natural gas it sold in 1973, about a half cent more than in the previous year.

Meanwhile, the controversial issues of gasoline rationing and energy conservation were taking a temporary back seat to growing congressional demands for a change in tax breaks given big oil.

"Our tax policy, instead of encouraging energy development in the U.S., has made the Arab nations self-sufficient," Jackson said Tuesday as his investigations subcommittee wound up its second day of quizzing oil companies executives on the extent of the energy crisis.

Senate Finance chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., who last month led a filibuster against emergency energy legislation because of a provision to limit excess profits by the oil industry, said he would be willing to support tax legislation that would induce the companies to turn their attention to exploration and development at home.

Jackson, who is the bill's floor manager, said a vote on shutting off debate would come early next week.

After executives from the seven leading oil firms told his subcommittee that the United States would require up to 15 years to become self-sufficient in energy, even with the incentive of high oil prices, Jackson said a rollback in the price of crude oil was called for. "This is a completely different tune than we've been hearing on the floor of the Senate—that taking the lid off price would result in more oil."

Two of the seven executives predicted gasoline prices would increase by 10 to 15 cents per gallon this year.

Escrow Interest Bill Passes Senate

ALBANY as a symbolic victory for New York State homeowners will be getting two per cent annual interest on their escrow accounts under a bill which passed the State Senate Tuesday by a vote of 57-0—a step that would mean relief of about $7 a year for the average homeowner.

The bill, introduced by State Sen. Jay P. Rolison (R-39th Dist.) of Poughkeepsie, a former Ulster County state representative, was sent to the Assembly. Sponsors of the proposal admitted that the amount of money involved for the consumers was small but the unanimous vote was viewed as a symbolic victory for consumer organizations over the banking industry which stands to lose about $10 million a year statewide if the bill becomes law.

An escrow account is where a homeowner, in addition to making mortgage payments to a lending institution, also includes payments for insurance and taxes and other fees. The bank in turn makes the payments to the municipality or the insurance company.

There is a certain convenience for consumers in the way that escrow accounts are now handled, but proponents of the Senate bill argued that that convenience is more than offset by the amount of money the banks are making from the escrow accounts.

The average escrow account in the state is $300 to $370, so the interest would run from $6 to $7.40 annually.

Under present law, the banks have the use of the escrow money for up to six months without having to pay interest on it. They can lend it at rates that now go as high as 11 per cent.

The other side of the coin is:

If the banks have to pay interest on escrow accounts, will they in turn charge fees to make up the difference, leaving the consumer on the monetary shortend?

"That is not the intent of the bill at all," said a spokesman for Sen. Thomas McGowan's banking committee. The spokesman did allow that there were no provisions in the bill to prevent just that from happening but he nonetheless expressed strong doubt that it would happen. "I don't think they would be able to get away with it," the spokesman opined.

There was some evidence of bargaining between the Senate Banking Committee and the Banking Committee and the would ultimately benefit banking committee as evidenced by the proposed interest rate itself. "There was one banker from Syracuse who testified that his bank had been paying four and a half per cent on escrow accounts," the spokesman said. "We could have mandated a four or five per cent interest payment but the banks would have really been up in arms about that. We think this (the two per cent) is fair."

The Senate Banking Committee is also working on two other pieces of "consumer oriented" legislation which would ultimately benefit homeowners.

The State Banking Department has filed legislation with the committee that would allow for faster prepayment of mortgage loans without penalty. The limit now is three years. The bill proposes it be reduced to a year and a half.

The escrow account bill was introduced by State Sen. Jay P. Rolison Jr. (R-39th Dist.) of Poughkeepsie who until reappointment two years ago, represented Ulster County. Rolison, vice chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, was filling in for Senator McGowan.

Grand Union Abandons St. Anne's Plans

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON The Grand Union company has abandoned its plans to construct a supermarket on the site of St. Anne's Convent at Broadway and Orchard Street due to the high cost of financing the project.

Father Thomas Kershaw, rector and spokesman of the Order of St. Anne's, confirmed reports that Grand Union, after a two and a half year battle, had given up on its attempts to build a new million-dollar supermarket in Kingston. "Grand Union did not execute with us," Father Kershaw said when contacted by the Freeman at his Boston offices.

Father Kershaw said he was notified by Grand Union representatives in November of last year that they would not be picking up their option to purchase the property, rezoned, finally, by the Common Council and approved by the mayor in August of last year. "We had a firm commitment, originally," Father Kershaw said. "But, as you know, this dispute went on for almost three years. They (Grand Union) said that timing and circumstances just negated their going forward with their plans."

Howard C. St. John, a Kingston attorney and banker who represented St. Anne's throughout the proceedings, offered an interpretation of "timing and circumstances."

Interest rates, St. John explained, rose by about 35 per cent between the time Grand Union first applied for permission to build its supermarket at St. Anne's (Nov. 5, 1971) and the time it was finally approved by the city (Aug. 13, 1973).

County Court Judge Raymond Mino then dismissed the jury, saying the charge of manslaughter in the first degree against Linda May Tubby ended nine hours of deliberation Tuesday night "hopelessly deadlocked."

District Attorney Francis Vogt said he is considering the possibility of a retrial next month. It would be impossible to get a new jury this month, said Vogt, because the Tubby case has been so much in the courtroom at one point during their deliberations to request a review of some of the evidence that was brought before them in the course of the seven-day trial.

In between, two public hearings were held. It was twice approved by the Common Council—three times counting the Council's 8-5 attempt to override a mayoral veto that fell one vote short—and then "regretfully" approved by the mayor.

Mayor Francis R. Koenig, whose immediate opposition forestalled the project, expressed "surprise" at the news that Grand Union did not intend to carry out its announced plans. He said the Freeman's inquiry was the "first notification" that he'd had on the demise of the project. However, the mayor wasn't entirely unhappy about it either. "Although I did have my doubts (about Grand Union) since nothing was done, I think it might be a definite asset to us in moving ahead with our commercial site in the Broadway East urban renewal area," Koenig said.

Koenig is still opposed to a supermarket at St. Anne's because he still thinks it would be detrimental to the development of a shopping facility in Broadway East, about half a mile away. "I am keeping an open mind on all aspects of both these parcels as there is a need for new construction in this city and it must continue for it is to the advantage of our taxpayers," Koenig concluded.

Koenig says that he has had several interested would-be developers in Broadway East in recent months and expects definite word on their plans within the next few weeks.

The city's approved developer in Broadway East, a Long Island firm, abandoned its plans last spring, contending it could not arrange necessary financing.

alone" and that if a verdict of guilty was decided upon it must be decided "beyond a reasonable doubt."

The evidence at the trial included a gun, a blood-stained nightgown and a pair of gloves Linda May was said to be wearing when she shot her father. Ballistics experts testified that on none of the evidence were any fingerprints found.

Meanwhile, St. Anne's is still on the market, a commercial site on a busy street. Father Kershaw still contends that St. Anne's will be selective on who purchases its property despite the fact that with a C-2 (commercial) zoning almost any kind of commercial venture imaginable would be allowed.

"First and foremost we'd want to cooperate with the city," he said. "There are probably needs that your redevelopment people know about that we're not aware of and as we've said many times, we really want to do something with the property that will benefit the city."

"Personally, I'm very disappointed," Father Kershaw said. "The delays really proved nothing other than conditions change and what was viable today may not be tomorrow. Too bad government can't adjust itself to the facts of life. I don't think I'll ever understand why it was delayed."

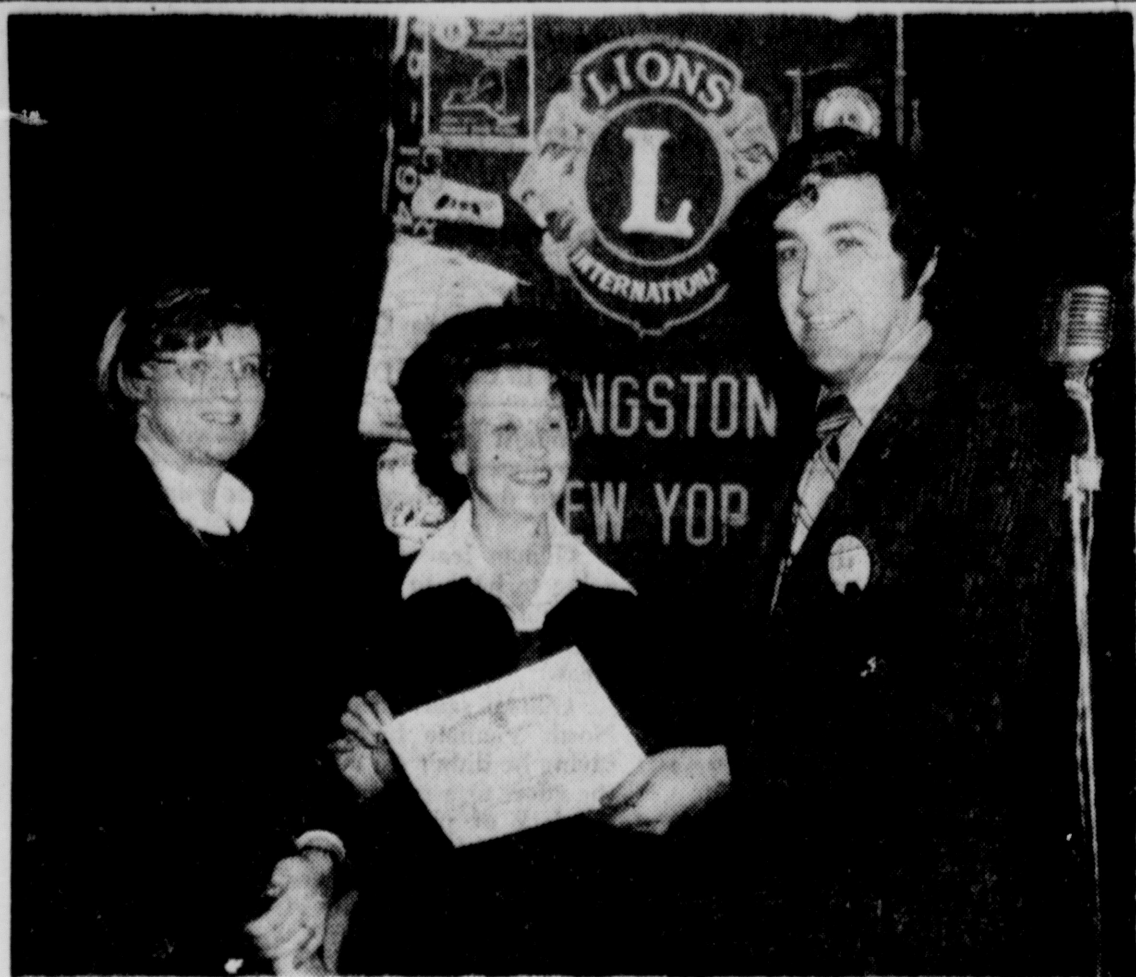

The Order of St. Anne's is in the process of selecting an area real estate broker to market its property. Estimated value on the four-acre site? "Upwards of $150,000" according to reliable sources.

Verdict Favors County Man

KINGSTON — An Ulster County Supreme Court Jury brought in a unanimous 6-0 verdict Tuesday of $33,000 for injuries sustained by Roger C. Swart of West Hurley. Swart sought damages from Bridge City Distributors Inc., of Poughkeepsie and Wayne Elmendorf, an employee of the beer distributor, who was driving the truck that allegedly hit the Swart car on Rt. 28 Sept. 1, 1972.

Swart allegedly sustained back and neck injuries as a result of the accident in which the five-ton truck allegedly hit the Swart station wagon in the rear according to testimony.

Counsel for the plaintiff, Joseph Hill, contended that Swart sustained permanent injuries, has not been able to work full time since the accident and is subject to continual pain. He told of Swart's work hours being limited to half days and less than of Kingston. William C. Mullany was counsel for the defendants. Among witnesses for the plaintiff was Dr. George Woods.

Justice George L. Cobb presided.

Supervisor Is Elected

PALENTVILLE, N.Y. (UPI)—George Arney, supervisor of the town of Sodus, Wayne County, Tuesday was elected president of the New York State Supervisors and County Legislators Association.

Arney will succeed Arthur Luck, retired Onondaga County legislator, as president of the association, which held its 24th annual winter conference here.

Delegates rejected, by a vote of 113-41, a Greene County resolution calling for a moratorium on new construction of nuclear power plants for safety reasons. A delegation from Ulster County is in attendance.

State Police Arrest Man

ELLENVILLE — A 31-year-old Ellenville man who was released after paying a $15 fine for loitering Monday night found that his troubles were far from over on Tuesday when state police again arrested him — on a charge of being an illegal alien.

Levy Froes was turned over to immigration authorities from New York City Tuesday night following his second arrest in two days. Police said Froes was allegedly from Brazil.

Froes and Joseph Mazesky, 26, also of Ellenville, had been initially arrested Monday night on charges of loitering near a gas station off Route 209. Both had paid $15 fines and been released. Further investigation by Ellenville State Police led to the second arrest of Froes.

Kingston Association Presents Petition

Ulster Businessmen Discuss Blue Laws

By HUGH REYNOLDS

ULSTER SHOP CITY — The Ulster Business and Professional Association has decided to table a policy statement on the repeal of Sunday blue laws for at least another month or until they meet with the prime mover behind the repeal, Assemblyman H. Clark Bell of Woodstock.

The association met in regular session today at the House of Pancakes on the Ulster Avenue Mall and took up the business of Sunday blue laws repeal. The discussion opened with the distribution of a petition, sponsored by members of the Kingston Uptown Businessmen's Association in opposition to Bell's proposals to repeal all Sunday closing laws.

A short discussion followed which proved only that there was no consensus of opinion on the subject. At that point, Orville Norman of the Kingston Garden Center announced that he had contacted Bell and had received a tentative commitment from the Assemblyman to appear before the businessmen at their next meeting on either Feb. 21 or 22. It was unanimously agreed to table any action on the matter until after Bell had addressed the group.

Most of the meeting was taken up with a presentation by Wilfrid G. Bonvouloir on Benedictine Hospital's $1.5 million fund raising drive. Bonvouloir, a spokesman for the fund drive, was introduced to the 20 businessmen in attendance by Norman, Town of Ulster chairman of the fund raising drive.

The history of Benedictine Hospital is one of the county's 10 largest employers with an annual payroll of over $6 million.

The hospital's community activities were cited, note being made of donations of land for the Children's Rehab Center and land for proposed Ulster County Mental Health Center.

The growth of Benedictine Hospital over the past three quarters of a century was brought home through charts and graphs.

It was noted that Benedictine Hospital is one of the county's 10 largest employers with an annual payroll of over $6 million.

In 1953 the hospital cared for 4,949 patients. Last year the number was 8,905.

Surgical procedures are up 65 per cent since 1958.

Lab procedures are up 631 per cent since 1953.

X-ray treatments are up 388 per cent, emergency room and will cost an estimated $9 treatments are up 2,950 per million, $1.5 million of which is cent and physical therapy being raised through public treatments are up by 960 per subscription.

On the other hand, maternity services have decreased markedly in the past 20 years; show- ing 552 births in 1953, peaking at 1,118 in 1958 and dropping to 695 in 1973.

The new wing will be built on the present doctor's park and Professional Association, ing lot, will be six stories with "Both think it's a good idea," a three-story connecting wing Regan said.

Nixon Planning to Serve Out Term

WASHINGTON (AP) — The good health mentally and physically" and said he received assurances during a one-hour, 45-minute meeting Monday that Nixon's ability to overcome Watergate despite a lack of public support from congressional Republicans.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler portrayed Nixon Tuesday as determined to serve out his term and ready to tackle national problems rather than be "consumed by Watergate."

Ziegler said Nixon "knows that he has not been involved in the wrongdoing as charged" and plans to concentrate his energies now on legislative and foreign policy matters.

Meanwhile, Ford vigorously defended Nixon at a news conference.

He pictured Nixon as "in Nixon of the charge by John W. Dean III that he was part of the Watergate cover-up.

Later, however, sources said the special Watergate prosecutor's office had not found evidence to contradict Dean's testimony before grand juries and prove Dean's testimony.

Meanwhile, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said he senses "a very strong feeling right here on the hill, and you're going to see it more and more, that many Republicans would like to run this year without Mr. Nixon."

John Dean's Testimony Holding Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — It also is known that Dean is continuing to cooperate closely with the prosecutors. He was seen entering their offices with the test of the White House tapes.

It was learned Tuesday night that the prosecutors have no plans to charge Dean with lying when he testified about White House discussions of the Watergate break-in.

when he said the President knew of the Watergate cover-up before March 21, 1973, the date the President has said he first learned of it.

The prosecutor's office declined comment on the reports, Scott could not be reached for comment.

Dean pleaded guilty in October to a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice. The prosecutors agreed not to seek further charges against Dean in exchange for his cooperation.

Last July, the prosecutor's office subpoenaed the tapes of nine presidential conversations. The demand was based largely on Dean's testimony before the Watergate committee.

On Oct. 23, the White House agreed to give the tapes voluntarily to U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica, who subsequently turned over the Watergate portions to the prosecutors.

The White House had notified Sirica that two of the conversations sought never were recorded and that a third contained an 18½-minute gap that had obliterated all references to the Watergate break-in.

Last week, Sirica referred those three cases to special prosecutor Leon Jaworski with a recommendation he present evidence to a grand jury. Jaworski's staff began presenting the case to a grand jury on Monday.

According to a memorandum filed in court last August in support of the subpoena issued by the prosecutors, the crucial meetings involving Dean occurred on Sept. 15, 1972, and March 13 and 21, 1973.

Dean said that at the Sept. 15, meeting the President congratulated him on the "good job" he had done and said he was pleased the case had "stopped with Liddy."

Dean testified that on March 13, the President told him he had approved executive clemency for Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt and that there would be no problem about raising $1 million to buy the silence of all seven defendants.

There were two meetings on March 21. All accounts agree that during the first, Dean gave the President his theory of the cover-up involving White House and presidential campaign committee officials.

At the afternoon meeting, Dean said the possibility of White House and campaign officials testifying before the grand jury was discussed and that after the session it was clear to him the cover-up would continue.

Back Taxes May Be Due

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon may have to pay some back income taxes, according to the chairman of a congressional committee investigating Nixon's tax returns. But he said the question of fraud was still unresolved.

"The more I learn about the matter," Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., said, "the more it seems to me that we will ask the President to pay some back taxes."

Long's committee is one of three groups—including the White House and the Internal Revenue Service — investigating whether or not Nixon took an improper tax deduction when he claimed $576,000 in deductions for the gift of some of his vice presidential papers to the National Archives.

Long said the deductions, even while they may have been improper, may have been taken in good faith and without fraudulent intent. He said the investigation has not proceeded far enough to make any conclusions about whether fraud was involved.

On Capitol Hill, Rep. Tom Rainsback, R-Ill., a member of the House Judiciary Committee investigating the possibility of a Nixon impeachment, said he has written a bill designed to obtain impeachment evidence from Watergate Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

Jaworski has said he cannot turn material over to the committee because it is being presented to grand juries and must be kept secret. Rainsback, however, said his measure would require all information relevant to impeachment of a President or vice president be turned over to the House panel conducting the impeachment inquiry.

In other developments involving the President's Watergate-related troubles:

—The Senate Watergate committee was to meet later today to decide whether to pursue inquiries into the President's dealings with milk producers and with billionaire recluse Howard Hughes.

—Dwayne O. Andreas, a major contributor to Nixon's 1972 campaign, asked in papers filed in U.S. District Court that charges he made an illegal $100,000 gift to the 1968 presidential campaign of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., be dismissed. The charges were filed by Prosecutor Archibald Cox just before Cox was fired. Andreas contends the subject is unrelated to Watergate and therefore beyond Cox's authority. Prosecutors replied that then-Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson gave Cox "explicit authority" to handle the case.

—A poll of the House of Representatives shows just over one-fifth of the members—21 per cent—say they would favor or tend to favor impeaching Nixon if a vote were taken now. The poll, taken by NBC News, also shows an increased number of Congressmen undecided on the issue since the firing of Archibald Cox, the first Watergate special prosecutor.

Impeachment Evidence Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Tom Rainsback, R-Ill., a member of the House Judiciary Committee, says he has written a bill designed to obtain impeachment evidence from Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

Jaworski has contended he cannot turn over the material, which some committee members feel is vital to an inquiry into possible impeachment of President Nixon, because it is being presented to federal grand juries and must be kept secret.

Rainsback said his measure would require all information relevant to impeachment of a President or vice president be turned over to a House panel conducting an inquiry.

He has delayed introducing the bill until after Thursday when the 15 senior committee members meet to receive a progress report on the inquiry from special counsel John M. Doar.

The confidentiality of the material would be protected, Rainsback said, "except in cases where the information is used as evidence to support a charge of impeachment."

Judiciary Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., said the committee has other alternatives for getting Jaworski's material, including use of subpoena power or passage of a law exempting him from the secrecy strictures insofar as the impeachment inquiry is concerned.

Rep. William L. Hungate, D-Mo., said the committee also could revive a bill requiring a court-appointed special prosecutor, an act which could jeopardize Jaworski's position, if Jaworski refused to cooperate with the committee.

Letters to the Editor

Christian Love

Editor, The Freeman:

I am a Catholic priest and not afraid to be known throughout Ulster County as an active, totally pro-life person. I wish to offer especially to your Christian readers the following consideration: that we are now in the second great age of fire in the Christian era.

The first great age of fire in Christian times was the age of Pentecost, when the early Church used the image of fire to show the intensity of the love with which the first Christians burned. The second great age of fire is far different. In this era we have been confronted with the burning of people in electric chairs; we have gasped at the incineration of citizens by atomic bombs; we have read in our papers of the searing effects of napalm upon war-torn children; we have experienced the scathed bodies of those unborn aborted by saline solution.

As a result of this conflagration, the conscience of our nation now smolders in ashes. Recently, while in Viet Nam many of our soldiers killed so many innocent lives in fields and villages, many of their wives, sisters, and mothers killed innocent unborn lives in abortion clinics and doctors' offices. It is said that the killing in Viet Nam was legal because our President had ordered it. It is said that the killing of the unborn is legal because our U.S. Supreme Court has declared that the unborn are not capable of meaningful existence outside the womb and therefore are not eligible for the legal title of "personhood."

Professor Paul Ramsey.

Thanks All Around

Editor, The Freeman:

We would like to have this letter printed to express our thanks to the Town and Village of Rosendale. We would also like to let everyone know what kind of place it really is to live in. On Dec. 19, 1973 our son Jeffery had a bad fall and was in critical condition. On Dec. 21 our son took a turn for the worst and almost didn't make it. Thanks to Dons Ambulance Service and his drivers we got Jeffery to Albany Medical Center on time. Between every one's prayers and some great doctors at Albany our son made it. We would also like to thank the nurse from Benedictine Hospital's I.C.U. unit who went with us to Albany for her kindness and concern. Special thanks goes out to Father Bliss of St. Peter's Church of Rosendale for all his prayers and kindness during our trying time. We were showered with food from Rondout Valley Lions Club and Troop 17 Boy Scouts of Tillson. The Rosendale Village Police Auxiliary and families were very helpful and kind by taking up a collection from all the businessmen in the village and some from the town. Also many friends and neighbors gave including Radio Station WGHQ. The Police Auxiliary of our fine Police Department took time going out and doing all the Christmas shopping for our other six children and wrapping each gift to place under our tree. We have so many people to thank who were so kind with Prayers and Donations including The Rosendale Womens Club, Kenneth Roosa Grocery, Roberto's Restaurant in Port Ewen, all our friends and relatives and the New York State Police including Albany City police who gave the ambulance a escort to the Medical Center. If it wasn't for everyone being so kind and helpful we would have fallen apart. This to us proves that Rosendale is a great community to live in when so many people can give so much at a time of need. Thanks to everyone in Rosendale. It's a great community and we are proud to be a part of it.

Respectfully,
JOHN and MARGE WOLFEIL

Infamous Decision

Editor, The Freeman:

Tuesday, January 22, 1974 marked the first anniversary of the infamous Supreme Court decision that has cheapened respect for human life by allowing abortion on demand. Last year's Supreme Court decision on abortion was, in effect, an attack on all human life. Despite the opinion of the Court, the Right to Life organization, together with millions of pro-life concerned citizens in our society still hold that, from conception, human life is sacred and to be valued and cared for as a God-given trust.

Tuesday, many Americans joined in the Circle of Life March around the Capitol Building in Washington, D.C., to show their concern for the value of every human life and to seek passage of a Human Life Amendment which guarantees the right to life to the unborn, to the ill, the aged, and the incapacitated. Let us make our pledge as advocates for life on this sad anniversary of that terrible Monday, January 22, 1973 and join with others in a day of prayer.

Care Needed

Dear Parents:

As you know, with the change to Daylight Savings Time many of our students are leaving for school in the morning in darkness. The Board of Education and I are most concerned for the safety of all of our children and would like to offer the following suggestions to you for your consideration.

We would suggest that children wear reflective tape on their coats or jackets to make them more visible to motorists. We would also recommend that where possible, children wear bright contrasting colors, also to improve visibility. If feasible, a pocket flashlight could be carried to improve safety.

The Ontario Board and I would also like you to be aware of the fact that we are undertaking a broad based campaign to alert motorists of the need to exercise greater diligence and care in watching out for children who are either walking to or waiting at bus stops.

Your cooperation in this regard is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,
FRANK M. MARLOW, Ed.D.

'More State Money Needed for Public Schools' . . . Duryea

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Malcolm Wilson's proposed budget for the next fiscal year would provide $2.59 billion for public schools, but Assembly Speaker Perry B. Duryea says the amount is inadequate.

Speaking in an informal news conference Wednesday, Duryea said he was optimistic more money could be provided.

"In a $9.38-billion budget," he said, "there's always an area where we can find money."

Although the total school aid is $126 million more than the figure for the current fiscal year, schools would receive approximately the same amount of aid for each pupil. Existing aid formulas would be retained without change.

Duryea indicated that he favored an enrichment of the aid formulas to provide more money per pupil.

The plan sets aside $30 million that Wilson aides said could be used for education.

"That would be the bare minimum," said Duryea, a Republican from Montauk.

Duryea's criticism of Wilson's budget was restrained, compared to criticism leveled by the Democratic minority leaders in the legislature.

"Unrealistic in its revenue estimates and unacceptable in its proposed expenditures," complained Sen. Joseph Zaretzki of Manhattan and Assemblyman Stanley Steingut of Brooklyn.

They complained that the budget had no substantial increases in aid for education, housing, crime-fighting, the aging, conservation or mental health.

In other activity during the day:

—County executives appealed to the governor to help their counties pay their share of proposed state programs. Wilson has proposed that counties match state funds in a $100-million state subsidy for transit systems after May 1 and a 12 per cent increase in payments to welfare recipients.

—More than 1,000 persons, members of the Tenants Legislative Coalition, lobbied for legislation to permit communities to impose rent controls on apartments. They visited lawmakers' offices and filled Capitol corridors.

—About 400 persons rallied on the Capitol steps to denounce a decision by the U.S. Supreme Court that allowed abortions.

There was a brief interruption when an anti-abortion demonstrator tore up the signs of a few pro-abortion demonstrators.

—Assemblyman Leonard Stankis, D-Queens, and Sen. Sidney von Luther, D-Manhattan, have recommended the splitting payments. The other state introduce a resolution today calling for impeachment of President Nixon.

Abort Foes To Continue The Battle

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Abortion foes in New York State pledged a renewed campaign Tuesday to outlaw the controversial operation but this time the efforts will concentrate on Congress rather than the state legislature.

About 400 persons stood at the base of the state Capitol's front steps for more than an hour as state and local members of the "right to life" movement urged passage of a constitutional amendment banning abortions.

The chairman of the movement's state organization, John Middleton of West Chazy, near Plattsburgh, said much of the group's efforts will be directed toward congressional approval. "Right now that's what we're concentrating on," he said.

The rally, and smaller observances held elsewhere in the state, coincided with the first anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court ruling that abortion was constitutional.

Last year, the state legislature—amid a storm of controversy—adopted a bill repealing New York State's abortion law. Then-Governor Rockefeller, however, vetoed the proposal, leaving the current law intact.

Despite the fact that both houses of the state legislature were meeting Tuesday, only a handful of the state's 205 lawmakers went to the front of the Capitol to address the demonstrators.

Assemblyman Thomas Brown, an Albany Democrat, gave his support to the group and said "this concern will live on as long as there is concern for human life."

Republican Sen. James H. Donovan of Utica asked the crowd: "You see government unwilling to protect human life . . . can you, like pre-war Germany, remain silent?"

Sen. Richard E. Schermerhorn, R-Newburgh, and Assemblyman Neil W. Kelleher, R-Troy, also spoke briefly to the crowd.

Two pro-abortion demonstrators who later identified themselves as Sarah Keough of Albany and Claire Pospisil of Schenectady, both 22, walked onto the steps behind the speakers with a sign that read "Support Legal Abortion."

One of the demonstrators, Joseph O'Leary, 45, a salesman from Albany, climbed over a police barricade and tried to rip the sign away. Police quickly halted the scuffle and escorted O'Leary away.

Speaking in Washington, Sen. James L. Buckley, CR-N.Y., referred to the Supreme Court ruling as "the blackest day in the history of American jurisprudence" and called for Congress to act on the proposed amendment. The New York Civil Liberties Union, however, issued a statement in support of the controversial decision and vowed to "fight to the fullest any effort to restrict the right to abortion in this state."

11 Killed in House Fire

VAL D'OR, QUE. (UPI) — A faulty furnace may have caused a predawn fire Tuesday which killed 11 persons, including 10 members of one family, and injured six others, authorities suspect.

Police in this mining community about 300 miles north-west of Montreal said one of the survivors reported seeing of one family. The other victim, James near the furnace before was the girl friend of a family's two-story wooden frame member.

house was engulfed in smoke and flames shortly after 6:30 a.m.

Ten of the victims, who ranged in age from 3 to 73, and all the survivors jumped or were thrown from upstairs windows. Three were hospitalized in satisfactory condition with cuts and burns, and the others were treated and released.

The blaze was the third major fire in Canada in five days. Nine persons died in an apartment house fire in Winnipeg Friday, and seven children were killed Saturday in a fire at their home in Tobay, Nfld.

Barthe Bussiere, a neighbor who lived only six feet away from the duplex-type house, said he was awakened early Tuesday by smoke so dense he first thought his own house was on fire.

He said when he ran next door, "They were already caught. I could hear people screaming inside, but there was no way anyone could have got in. There was so much smoke you couldn't even see the house."

A Quiet Surrender

HALES CORNERS, Wis. (UPI) — Steven Cole, a 25-year-old Vietnam veteran, allegedly threatened to kill his parents and then holed up in their home for three days with a small arsenal of guns, police said. He surrendered quietly Tuesday night.

Cole had said he would shoot anyone who tried to come in, but he was taken into custody without a struggle by District Attorney E. Michael McCann and Sheriff's Lt. Daniel Richardson.

Richardson, posing as an attorney, and McCann entered the home after raising their hands to show they were unarmed. Cole did the same. Once inside, they grabbed him.

Police later found nine guns in the home, including a .22-caliber automatic rifle, a .22-caliber single shot rifle, a pellet rifle, a rifle of unknown make, a .22-caliber revolver, an air pistol, three disassembled AK47 assault rifles, seven knives, a hatchet and ammunition.

Cole's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Cole, said he fired a gun into the ground five or six times Friday night and stomped out. He returned Saturday and told them to leave. They went to a hotel and called the police, who began an around-the-clock stakeout of the house Monday.

Police said Cole talked with his girl friend by telephone and told her "he'd killed 49 people in Vietnam and that his parents were going to be next."

Outraged Conscience

It sounds at first glance like Russia's problem alone, an internal matter of no direct concern to the rest of the world.

But it's not.

One solitary brave voice has shouted out in defiance against the tyranny, the cruelty, the criminality inherent in the Communist way of life. And while that voice may be crushed and silenced by the ruthless power of a totalitarian police state, its message will reverberate in the free world and we will be the richer for it.

In question is the recently published sensation, "The Gulag Archipelago," by Alexander Solzhenitsyn, a damning indictment of the use of secret police and slave labor during the Lenin and Stalin years and, by implication, up to the present day.

Unlike some authors who have fled Russia to tell their stories, Mr. Solzhenitsyn is determined to challenge the Soviet system on its own ground. His courage is extraordinary and may have caught the Kremlin off balance. Far from being intimidated by the government, which has sent dissident authors to prisons and mental hospitals, Mr. Solzhenitsyn has become daring enough to demand that Communist leaders acknowledge the cruelties of their system to the Russian people.

The hope had been raised last May when the Soviet government revealed it was joining the Universal Copyright Convention that Moscow would be taking a more enlightened view toward the rights of authors and publishers.

That hope has been dashed—adding to the lengthening list of disappointments in the Soviet effort toward detente.

It now has been made clear that Russia's principal interest in joining the international copyright organization was to prevent publication abroad of works by Russian authors criticizing the Soviet system.

There is one consolation however. The Western world now is sure that the Soviet leaders are seriously worried about the flow of material from their literary underground to printing presses in the West. On this sensitivity to world opinion hangs the hope that the halting steps toward detente, for all their disappointments, eventually will force some relaxation of the police state mentality which has guided the Communists since they came to power in Russia half a century ago.

Thus it is essential that publishers in the West resist any attempt to use the copyright convention to suppress publication of the Solzhenitsyn book.

The dilemma confronting the Kremlin is that the author is a Nobel Prize winner and a literary figure of world stature. His existence also is well-known to the Russian masses, many of whom know that what he has written about the secret police is true.

To imprison him at this point would simply confirm in the eyes of the world and the Russian people that the Soviet system is as repressive and intolerant as "The Gulag Archipelago" reveals.

The writer appears to be engaging in a war of nerves with his government. He has committed his fate to a belief that his pen will prove mightier than the sword of Stalinism hanging over all those in the Soviet Union who dare to admit the truth of the Communist revolution.

It is reassuring that even a half-century of methodical torture and oppression has not obliterated what Alexander Solzhenitsyn represents—the voice of an outraged conscience.

OIL FOR ALL COMERS — Nations willing to pay the price can get oil now. The authoritative Middle East Survey reports that Libya has begun offering oil at $20 a barrel on a take-it-or-leave-it basis. Bids had reached $22 a barrel in Nigeria and Iraq was asking $21.50. The oil consuming states had better join the protective group suggested by Secretary of State Kissinger.

By JACK ANDERSON
WASHINGTON — Industrialist Howard Hughes' celebrated $100,000 gift wasn't the only cash that Bebe Rebozo collected for President Nixon.

From sources who have been 100 per cent reliable in the past, we have now learned that other fatcats delivered cash for Nixon to his Florida friend.

No written receipts, apparently, were given. Our sources say the President usually would acknowledge the contributions by telephoning the donors and thanking them.

At this point, we have been able to isolate and identify only one of the cash contributions positively. This was a $10,000 gift from the Davis brothers, who founded the Winn-Dixie supermarket chain.

An intermediary, after checking with Rebozo, said he acknowledged accepting the $10,000 from the Davises and collecting other cash contributions during the 1968 campaign. (J. E. Davis, the Winn-Dixie chairman, failed to return our calls.)

Our sources say Nixon used the cash as "walking around money" to pay his personal expenses. This is vigorously disputed by Rebozo who insisted, according to the intermediary, that the contributions were turned over to the campaign finance chairman, Maurice Stans.

We were unable to reach Stans, although a source close to the fund-raising said there was no record of cash deliveries from Rebozo.

It is a matter of record, at least, that the $100,000 from Hughes was not delivered to Stans. Rebozo has sworn he kept this money for three years in a safe deposit box at his Key Biscayne, Fla., bank.

FOOTNOTE: We made repeated requests to the White House for comment which was promised but never given.

KROGH'S STATEMENT: Contrary to press speculation that Egil "Bud" Krogh will implicate President Nixon in the crimes of the White House para-police plumbers unit, Krogh has given the Watergate prosecutors a statement assuming personal responsibility, as a chief plumber, for the illegal activities.

Earlier, the prosecutors had thought Krogh could tie the President directly to the plumber's operations. They expected Krogh's statement, therefore, to be a blockbuster that would force the President to resign or face impeachment.

Their expectations were heightened by ex-White House counsel John Dean's sworn testimony before the Senate Watergate Committee about the break-in of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist's office.

"I asked (Krogh) if he had received his authorization to proceed with the burglary from (John) Ehrlichman," testified Dean. "Krogh responded that, no, he did not believe that Ehrlichman had been aware of the incident until shortly after it had occurred. Rather, he had received his orders right out of the oval office. I was so surprised to hear this that I said, 'You must be kidding.' And he repeated again that he had received his instructions out of the oval office."

Sources with access to Krogh's sworn statement say he claimed Dean had misunderstood him. It was the orders setting up the plumbers unit that came out of the oval office, not the orders for the Ellsberg break-in, Krogh explained.

BURGER'S BOY: The woman who was pushed out of her General Services Administration job to make room for Chief Justice Warren Burger's son has now told us about her experience.

Marilyn Weiner resigned in frustration after many of her duties were turned over to Wade Burger.

"Wade would sit with his feet up on the desk, smoke cigarettes and flick the ashes on the carpet," Mrs. Weiner told us. "He never did much work."

"Every once in a while, pressure was brought on him to get the work out. I was told by a superior to clock him, to see how long he left the room. Sometimes, it was a half hour or an hour. Sometimes, I wouldn't see him the rest of the day."

Mrs. Weiner charged that Burger put his name on her last major project, a condemnation report on a piece of property in Virginia.

"It was this much paper-work," she said, holding her thumb and forefinger about two inches apart. "Wade stapled it together after all the work was done and put his name on it."

Mrs. Weiner retired last October after 14 years of government service, with outstanding ratings. "They'll all be mad at me for telling about Wade Burger," she said. "They all know he's dull."

Yet he received a special title and a $25,863 salary to do the work, largely that Mrs. Weiner had done for $12,775 a year.

FOOTNOTE: We tried in vain to reach Wade Burger for comment. A woman in his office kept saying he was out and no one knew when he would return.

Inside Report

Nixon on Speer

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — One apparent sign of the heavy pressures on President Nixon came, to the astonishment of administration officials, at a high-level energy crisis meeting in the Cabinet Room just before Christmas when Mr. Nixon glowingly referred to Hitler Germany's sensational war production techniques during World War II.

Turning to energy czar William E. Simon, the President said he wanted Simon to cut corners, demolish red tape and ride roughshod over the bureaucracy to get his energy program moving.

He then advised his audience to read Albert Speer's "Inside the Third Reich," particularly the description of how Speer as arms production boss had kept German war production at peak levels even during the worst of the Allied Bombing of Germany. Some present felt the President was saying, in effect: I want Bill Simon to be my Albert Speer.

The reaction of some of those listening to Mr. Nixon in the Cabinet Room that day bordered on shock. Worse than that, some of the President's official family felt that the easy praise for convicted war criminal Speer's industrial mobilization of Nazi Germany was slightly ominous.

An enduring rule in American politics has long stigmatized praise for any aspect of Hitler Germany in American political rhetoric. The fact that Mr. Nixon could so easily, and without self-consciousness, break that rule in the bosom of his official family was chilling. It was also indicative of the tremendous strain Mr. Nixon is now operating under.

A FOOTNOTE: In a far different political lapse in late November the President made an extraordinary mistake. Signing the Alaska pipeline bill, the President said the first pen should go to the senior Senator from Alaska, Mike Gravel. Democrat Gravel's colleague, Republican Ted Stevens, the senior Senator from Alaska, was visibly upset but managed to retrieve the first pen from an embarrassed President. It was the kind of mistake rarely made by a President who prides himself on being master of political minutia.

EHRLICHMAN'S LAWYERS — The question whether John D. Ehrlichman enters into serious plea bargaining with the Watergate special prosecutor is complicated by a severe backstage disagreement between his East and West Coast lawyers.

Contrary to speculation, the suggestion that Ehrlichman tell all in return for limited prosecution came not from special prosecutor Leon Jaworski but from Ehrlichman's Los Angeles attorney, liberal Democrat Joseph Ball. But his Washington attorney, Conservative Republican John J. Wilson, for now is opposed to copping a plea.

Ehrlichman's course may determine the fate not only of his close friend and former fellow Nixon lieutenant, H. R. Haldeman, but of President Nixon himself. The Haldeman-Ehrlichman joint defense consists of flatly denying any wrongdoing. Ignoring advice from many aides, Mr. Nixon has tied himself to the Haldeman-Ehrlichman defense. Thus, should Ehrlichman begin talking freely to the prosecutors in return for a one-count guilty plea, Haldeman and the President might be adversely affected.

This again raises the point brought up at last summer's Senate Watergate hearings and angrily refuted by the tart-tongued, 72-year-old Wilson: does Wilson representing both Haldeman and Ehrlichman and serving as an advisor to Mr. Nixon as well constitute a potential conflict of interest?

Ehrlichman was called to Washington Jan. 10 in another attempt by Jaworski to extract hard information. Ehrlichman was accompanied only by lawyer Ball at a conference with prosecutors that morning when Ball unexpectedly began exploring the possibilities of plea bargaining.

Ball may face a difficult time in defending Ehrlichman against a perjury indictment returned by a local grand jury in Los Angeles in connection with the White House plumbers' burglary of the office of Beverly Hills psychiatrist Lewis Fiedling. Egil Krogh, an Ehrlichman deputy who led the plumbers, avoided a similar perjury case in Los Angeles when he took a one-count federal guilty plea in Washington.

But when Ehrlichman returned to face the prosecutors after the lunch break Jan. 10, Wilson accompanied him and showed no interest in plea bargaining. Even if Ehrlichman gets his lawyers together on a common path, Jaworski's demands will be tough: a guilty plea to a major charge and, more significant, assurances that the new evidence given by Ehrlichman will be sufficiently important.

Burying Is a Grave Business

The grave is man's final obscene gesture to himself. It is a waste of space and lavish trappings for someone who lives elsewhere. Unless, of course, there is no elsewhere, in which case he now lives nowhere.

Some people revere graves, placing posies six feet above one who can neither see nor smell. Many pray at gravesides. Some families, traveling a distance, bring picnic lunch. As a boy, I carried sprinkling cans with water for graves at five cents a carry.

In Los Angeles, Forest Lawn, with its music and statuary, is Death's Disneyland. In Woodlawn, at New York, a bronze angel fights the metal door to "Bet You a Million" Gates' mausoleum, though I am sure he would lay six to one the angel can't pick the lock.

A rich lady lost a boy. Instead of a headstone, she had a marble bench built with a statue of him occupying one side, and room on the other side for mother to commune with the statue. That was long ago. Now she's gone and the boy looks forlorn sitting alone.

I bought three graves in a sober moment. Why three? There was a discount. I had the paid-up deed and it was stamped perpetual care. I do not know how anyone can pledge anything in perpetuity, but I am philosophical by nature and I figured that there was no way for me to arise and complain if the grass wasn't cut.

Nor, for that matter, was there any guarantee that the priests who administered the granite grove would not be below decks before me. In which case one of us would have run out of luck — though it is debatable which one.

The graves went on for years. With supreme effort, they grew weeds. My old man saw the deed while looking for insurance policies one day and he said: "I have reserved dying as the last thing I want to do." I accused him of reading it somewhere. He said it was original.

Seventeen years ago, my wife Elinor died while I was at sea. It was unexpected and a depressive gloom settled over the family. The doctor said it was an acute diverticulitis, something discovered on a Saturday, operated on on Monday, patient expired of peritonitis on Thursday.

Wakes, especially Irish wakes, are designed to wrench the last tear drop and attune the minds of the living to the fact that it is later than they think. Among the mourners were John and Mary Foley, so poor that they needed a co-maker to get bus fare.

Aunt Mary was my babysitter a long time ago. She was stout and old — perhaps simple-minded. But I loved that woman. She had a congenial speech impediment, and I was one of the few who could understand her. And hug her when I didn't.

John looked like an overage jockey. Two beers and he wanted to fight the biggest clown in the place. Three and he would try to reduce a tavern to a parking lot. He was tough. She was all heart, no head.

They knew that Elinor didn't like them, but they paid their last respects anyway. Mrs. B. had well-muscled likes and dislikes. In all our years I never knew her to alter an adverse opinion.

John whispered: "Mary and me won't have to worry. The Veterans Administration will bury us." I said, "That's lovely," because any other response could presage a loud disagreement. "Lovely."

Years later, Mary died. John was bereft, head and shoulders on a kitchen table. I looked through his papers. The V.A. would not bury Mary. He didn't have a dime. So I said: "Put Mary in next to Elinor." They were not exactly buddies, but I, the living person, loved them both.

John thought I was generous. He began to dislike me at once. Mutual friends said he was angry because I stopped sending the monthly pittance which used to go to Mary.

A few years later, I received a phone call from a hospital. "We have a John Foley," the nurse said. "He says you are his next of kin." It was untrue, but the nurse said he would expire quickly. I was 1,500 miles away, so I told her to tell John — if he knew he was departing — that he could rest beside Mary.

Word came back that Foley expected to lie beside his Mary in any case. So he went. And that took the last good seat I had. Now and then, I visit the weeds and utter a prayer. It occurs to me that I do more mumbling than they did with each other.

There is no morbidity in the thought that I have no place to go. Nor do I plan to buy more narrow real estate. It's the ultimate put-down...

A Community Thanks an Old Friend

By JON POWERS

RHINEBECK According to his fellow townspeople, DeWitt Gurnell has spent most of the past 43 years serving the citizens and community of Rhinebeck. His friends and neighbors took a small step toward repaying that debt Monday night at a testimonial dinner held in Gurnell's honor at the Beekman Arms.

Dutchess County Executive William Bartles paid the most eloquent tribute to Gurnell Monday night. "I know of no one who has done more for his community than DeWitt," he said. "We see something in him that we can all believe in. He is a dedicated person who has made his whole life around his community."

The object of that praise has been a resident of Rhinebeck since 1930. Perhaps the community's leading spokesman for historical preservation, he is founder and former president of the Rhinebeck Historical Society, as well as town historian and a member of the Dutchess County Bicentennial Commission.

Gurnell is also a member of the Rhinebeck Grange, the Board of Trustees of The Rhinebeck Library, the Rotary Club and the Rhinebeck Chamber of Commerce. A veteran of World War II, Gurnell is vice-commander of the American Legion Post in Rhinebeck.

A semi-retired pharmacist, Gurnell served one term as Rhinebeck Town Justice. He declined to try for a second term last year, even though he was endorsed by the Democrats, Republicans and Conservatives in the 1970 election.

The toastmaster for Monday's affair was Raymond Baratta, former district attorney and presently Dutchess County Surrogate Judge. Extolling Gurnell's activities as town justice, Baratta said, "His job required understanding, tolerance, charity and a sense of humor, and DeWitt displayed all those virtues as a judge."

Praise also came from C. Fred Close, a former New York State Assemblyman who served as Dutchess County Sheriff from 1925 to 1927 and from 1939 to 1961.

The featured speaker for the evening was Hamilton Fish Sr., who served for 25 years in the House of Representatives, and whose son, Rep. Hamilton Fish Jr., serves much the same Dutchess County constituency in Congress today.

Fish, however, used the occasion to rigorously defend the President. He termed Nixon "one of the greatest Presidents in the history of the United States," said that "unless they find him guilty they should stay off his back and leave him alone," and applauded the President's journeys to China and the Soviet Union.

He also had some harsh criticism for the press. "The President has been sentenced and convicted every day in the newspapers without one iota of evidence," he said, "but no one has been able to prove treason. All they've done is bring up a lot of minor facts."

"Mr. Nixon has a record that has never been attained or reached by any president in the history of the United States," the elder Fish added, "and I have a right to say that after 25 years in Congress."

He had praise for Gurnell, too. "He is a public servant who has paid high tribute to the community of Rhinebeck," said Fish. "DeWitt Gurnell is Mr. Rhinebeck as far as public and community service is concerned."

The guest of honor had only some brief remarks. "Most of you deserve to be up here tonight," said Gurnell. "I'm just a small clog in this community." He later cited Rhinebeck's historical heritage and urged the community to participate actively in the upcoming Bicentennial celebration. Gurnell left the podium to a standing ovation from the 100 persons at the dinner.

Monday's testimonial was sponsored by the Rhinebeck Chamber of Commerce. Attending were representatives from the Dutchess County Sheriff's Department, New York State Police, FBI and many civic, fraternal and community organizations in the Rhinebeck area.

Gurnell was presented with an antique gold watch at the close of the ceremonies.

Land Use, Inventory Update Planned

STAMFORD, Land use and natural resources inventory (LUNR) data for the Catskills will be updated under a study contract announced today by executive director Albert G. Hall of the Temporary State Commission to Study the Catskills.

Cornell University Professor Ernest E. Hardy will direct the updating for the six and one-half county region which includes Ulster, Delaware, Greene, Otsego, Schoharie, Sullivan and six towns in Albany County.

In making the announcement,

Hall said that Dr. Hardy pioneered in this important technique which gave New York State the first real land use inventory in the nation.

The commission has asked him to update the data compiled in 1968 because high quality, current, land use information such as LUNR provides is vital to our study.

LUNR blends aerial photography interpretation with computer technology to provide point, linear or area information on 11 major categories of land use: agriculture, forest, water resources, non-productive, residential, commercial, industrial, extractive industry, outdoor recreation, public and semi-public transportation.

Hall said that county officials will be happy to know that the new data developed will be produced on the same scales as those used on tax maps.

Man Nabbed For Assault

KINGSTON
Gerald Purdy, 22, of Chambers Farm Lane, Town of Ulster, was arrested Tuesday night after he allegedly assaulted a G-G's Taxi Service cab driver near the Benedictine Hospital.

Purdy was initially picked up by security personnel at the hospital. He was later charged with third degree assault. The cab driver, Leroy Hamilton, 57, of West Union Street, Kingston, was treated and released at the hospital for lacerations.

Purdy was confined overnight in lieu of $100 bail pending a court appearance today.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank all my friends for their cards and letters of sympathy, the doctors and nurses of the Intensive Care unit at the Benedictine Hospital for their care and kindness, and everyone who has been so kind and helpful to me during the recent illness and death of my husband DeVal (Jim) Dunbar.

Housing for Blind Bill Introduced by Rolison

ALBANY Those who are sight handicapped or who rely on a guide or seeing eye dog may not be discriminated against in seeking housing under a bill introduced by State Sen. Jay P. Rolison Jr. (R-39th Dist.).

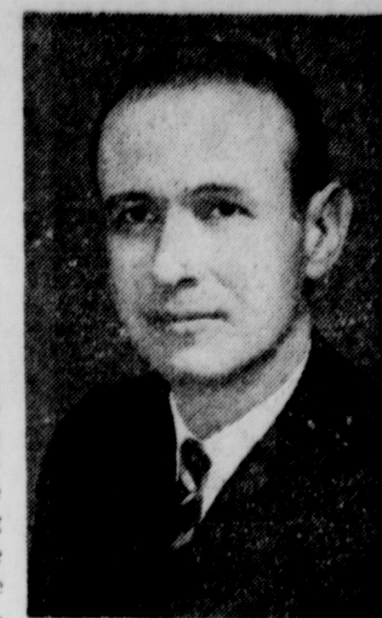

"I have asked that a new provision be added to the State's Civil Rights Law to prevent those who must use guide dogs and others who are sight handicapped from being refused housing because of their handicaps. Unfortunately, the legislative

"My research indicated that while most states have laws prohibiting discrimination in public places against the sight handicapped who use guide dogs, very few states grant such protection in private housing," he said.

"The bill which I have introduced will make it a misdemeanor to deny renting or selling an apartment or a house to the sight handicapped or because a blind person must rely on a seeing eye dog. The owner of the dog, of course, must be responsible for the dog, as he is in public places, and the owner of the apartment or house would not be required to remodel the premises merely because of the fact that a blind or sight handicapped person rents or buys it," Rolison continued.

"It seems inconceivable that such a bill should be necessary in these times to permit a sight handicapped person who seeks to become self-sufficient to find adequate housing. I was shocked to have heard from the blind young man from my senatorial district in which he recounted the refusal of landlords to rent apartments to him as he sought to further his education. I know that the young man had already proven his worth by graduating with a bachelor's degree from one college and was now seeking adequate fare, one that will allow the Transit system in New York City to sustain itself," he concluded.

SENATOR ROLISON

Schermerhorn Opposes $100 Million NYC Loan

ALBANY State Sen. Richard E. Schermerhorn (R-40th Dist.) has voted against a $100 million loan to the City of New York in order to maintain a fare of 35 cents which he believes to be inadequate. I think it is important that those who use a service pay for it, he said adding that he is fearful that "within the next few months the loan would be excused. I represent a district where people spend approximately $40 a week to maintain an automobile to get to and from work," he said, "this cost is made up of insurance, gasoline, maintenance, including tires and service, and depreciation. I might add that this is a conservative figure. It was also indicated that this loan would only maintain the fare until May 1, 1974. At that time, additional legislation will be developed to provide $400 million — $100 million by the state, $100 million by the City of New York, and $200 million by the federal government, to maintain a 35 cent fare until January 1, 1975. These temporary measures are extremely expensive to all people who live outside of the City of New York. I was also informed that many thousands of people ride the subways free of charge, thereby reducing revenues," Schermerhorn said.

"The only answer to a solution is a permanent one, and that is to charge an adequate fare, one that will allow the Transit system in New York City to sustain itself," he concluded.

SENATOR SCHERMERHORN

Auto Aids Listed

CORNWALL State Senator Richard E. Schermerhorn (R-40th Dist.) has sent a list of recommendations designed to help the auto industry in New York State to Gov. Malcolm Wilson.

Schermerhorn said he sent his list of recommendations to Wilson because of the "high percentage of the American labor force that depends on the automobile industry for full employment."

His recommendations were:
● The limitation of the importation of automobiles into the State of New York to the monthly import levels of 1972 if the state's unemployed exceeds 5 per cent in any month during 1974.

● Subsidy allocations for independent service stations meeting certain criteria.

● Prohibiting state, or state-aided, agencies including school districts from purchasing or leasing cars, trucks, buses, or road equipment manufactured outside the U.S.

● The appointment of a commission to review and evaluate pollution control devices in American cars to see how much extra gas they use.

● The suspension of all training flights of foreign governments in the state during the fuel crisis.

Fresh Fruit Orders Taken

KYSERIKE The Rondout Valley Teachers Association is presently taking orders for fresh-from-Florida citrus fruit, in an effort to raise money for the faculty's Support Our Students Fund.

In the past, the fund has been supported solely from Association dues, and has consequently been limited in scope. In order to increase its contribution to student needs not provided for elsewhere, the teachers decided to open the fruit sales to the community.

Mrs. Rosemary Rydant is chairman of the fund committee, and Mrs. Vincenza Pentick is the community chairman.

The deadline for orders has been advanced to Friday, Feb. 1. The Teachers Association is offering cartons of temple oranges (80-100 per carton) or pink grapefruit (about 40-80 per carton), at $7 per carton (no mixed fruit).

Checks should be made payable to the Rondout Valley Teachers Association, and mailed to Mrs. V. Pentick at Rondout Valley High School, Stone Ridge, N.Y. 12484. Pick-up of the fruit will be at the high school loading dock in the rear of the building, and everyone will be notified when orders can be picked up.

Chess Club Meet

WOODSTOCK The King's Knight Chess Club of Woodstock will resume its regular weekly meetings beginning Wednesday night, Feb. 6.

The club, which met at Dean's Restaurant, will hold its sessions at the Woodstock Town Hall. All interested in attending, however, should contact William Wetterer before future sessions, since other events at the Town Hall may occasionally force cancellations.

LWV Opposes September Primary

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The League of Women Voters says Gov. Malcolm Wilson is engaged in a "power play" designed to help incumbents—including himself—win election in November.

The league said it will fight in the legislature to kill Wilson's plan to move the state's primary from June to September.

The governor contends that such a step would shorten the campaign and cut costs.

But the league said the real purpose of the plan was to prolong primary campaigns and thereby help incumbents, most of whom will face no primary opposition.

In other developments at the Capital:—The Assembly approved and sent to the Senate a bill requiring unspecified insurance premium cuts for drivers whose cars have air bags. The bill would leave it up to the Insurance Department to determine how much the air bags will save in personal injury costs and now much premiums should be cut.

—Gov. Malcolm Wilson briefed legislators on his proposed $9.38 billion budget, which was made public this morning.

—Two legislators announced they will sponsor a conference in April to study children's rights and the current state laws relating to adoption, foster care and other matters.

State leaders of the League of Women Voters held a news conference in Albany Monday to announce their annual legislative program.

As in past years, the league will concentrate on a new formula for state aid to local schools, higher welfare benefits, and court reorganization.

But the fight over the September primary date was a new element in the program.

"This is clearly designed for the benefit of incumbents," said Ruth Robbins of Mamaroneck, president of the state league.

Wilson has characterized the primary proposal as a campaign "reform" idea that will cut campaign costs and thereby reduce political spending abuses.

But some Democrats have argued that it will increase the costs of the campaign for their party's gubernatorial nomination and give them less time to unite around a strong opponent to Wilson.

'GOP in Trouble' . . . Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says he has a private poll showing that Watergate will cause a 10 per cent loss of votes for all Republican candidates this year.

He said that without a virtually magic change for the better, the loss will be enough to spell the wholesale defeats for GOP candidates for governor and the Senate and House.

"I want to tell you it's going to be goddamned tough for any Republican to get re-elected, including myself, and I look in pretty good shape," the Arizona Republican said in an interview.

Goldwater said that, as late as two months ago, his poll showed Watergate disclosures hurting Democrats as much as Republicans in a kind of general public disgust with all politicians.

"Now the poll indicates Watergate is going to hurt only Republicans," he said.

"We'll lose in the Senate, no question about it," Goldwater said. In the course of a pessimistic political analysis, he said the GOP is beginning its campaign for Senate seats by losing three, and perhaps four, "sure bets" through retirement and resignation.

Goldwater said he has seen no evidence to indicate that President Nixon should either be asked to resign or be forced to face the impeachment process.

But he said that, if Mr. Nixon were to step aside, Vice President Gerald R. Ford is the best possible person to succeed him.

Goldwater said the true dimensions of the problem facing Republican candidates are made up of the Watergate disclosures, Nixon's 27 per cent standing in national polls, and the chances that both the economy and the energy crisis could worsen.

"I can sense a strong feeling right here on the hill, and you're going to see it more and more as weeks go on, that many Republican members of Congress would like to run this year without Mr. Nixon," Goldwater said.

Goldwater said the poll was prepared by pollster Richard Wirtline of Anaheim, Calif. The substantial Republican losses foreshadowed by the Wirtline poll will not be reversed "unless things take a decided turn for the better," Goldwater said.

Such a reversal would have to include "a very, very obvious and successful" solution to the Middle East problem and recession or we don't increase the quick and complete solution unemployment," Goldwater said.

"These things have to be of such magic that people will forget Mr. Nixon's problems," he said.

A Commitment to Build 200,000 Housing Units

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Nixon administration will commit up to $6.6 billion to guarantee the construction of 200,000 housing units in 1974 at an interest rate to the consumer of 7 1/2 per cent, an official said earlier this week.

James T. Lynn, secretary of housing and urban development, told a home builders convention here the step was being taken to bolster a sagging home building industry.

Lynn also announced a reduction in the maximum allowable interest rate for FHA mortgages from 8 1/2 to 8 1/4 per cent. He said the action was being matched by the Veterans Administration.

In announcing the $6.6 billion commitment, Lynn said the Federal National Mortgage Association was being expanded to assist in the construction of 200,000 housing units by providing below-market interest rates.

Under the expanded program, mortgages must be for new construction and bear an interest rate of 7 1/2 per cent.

Lynn said under the $6.6 billion commitment the government association will purchase FHA and VA insured mortgages on 200,000 units of newly constructed single and multi-family dwellings. The net effect of the program means the government will pay the difference between 7 1/2 and 8 per cent in the mortgage cost to the consumer.

Lynn said the announcement signifies an effort to provide a subsidy to the home buyer.

"It is an effort to turn around the downturn in housing," he said, "and we hope it will stimulate new construction."

It was not clear whether the government actually intends to spend all the $6.6 billion, or whether it was supplying that much money to guarantee home construction.

"I don't have to tell you what a significant commitment this is," Lynn said. "There will be real punishment on resale of these mortgages... if the mortgage money trends are the wrong way. Given the present slump in the housing market, however, we have little choice. It makes sense, and it must be done, both to help the home builder and the home buyer alike."

Many States In a Quandry Over Gas and Oil Shortages

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Surprised by the fuel crisis, states have scrambled to appoint energy officials who suddenly have to find out how real the crisis is and exactly how much gasoline and fuel oil they've got to cover spot shortages.

They are attempting this unprecedented task amid the confusion of changing federal regulations which some say are too little too late.

An Associated Press survey of 34 state energy officials showed that all feel their states are in an energy pinch, but most are unsure of the root causes. Many raised questions about oil industry culpability in the energy crisis, and many admitted they didn't really know how much fuel their states have.

"No provision for gathering oil information existed prior to Jan. 15 and we won't have figures until Feb. 1," said Harold Wills, Kansas fuel allocations officer.

How genuine are state gas and oil shortages?

"As far as Vermont is concerned, I know damn well there's a shortage," said Forrest Orr, head of the special state energy office. Like several other states, Vermont has little oil storage capacity.

"We have to rely on supplies from outside," he said.

While he said he did not know the extent of national fuel shortages and had no inside information to show that the oil industry may have contrived the situation, he added, "There is a certain degree of doubt in my mind that it is real."

The survey showed Orr's quandry is widespread. Some officials blamed the crisis on a real shortage of crude oil, but many had nagging doubts about oil industry involvement.

"If it was caused by increased consumption, lack of supply and refining capacity then the oil companies are taking a bum rap. If it is part of a planned strategy, then they ought to be brought to the bar of public opinion," said Robert Davis, Oregon's top energy official.

How much fuel does each state have?

Fourteen surveyed states had no reliable figures on their fuel supply. Another 14, relying on oil industry figures or educated guesswork, said gasoline and fuel oil stocks were down over last year's figures. A few said they were holding their own.

All welcomed President Nixon's promise Saturday to seek legislation requiring constant accounting by oil companies of their supplies and reserves. How about federal efforts so far in the crisis?

They were called confused, misplaced, unresponsive or "too little, too late" by 17 state officials. Thirteen gave Washington "adequate" ratings. Four didn't respond to the question.

"We are just beginning to implement the new regulations, and I believe it is too early to tell if additional action will be required," said Wallace Henderson, Florida's budget director.

But some states, particularly rural ones, were noticeably unhappy with federal measures.

"They just don't recognize the basic problem of identifying priority uses in retail outlets," Orr said. "In Vermont, town snowplows and ambulances are on's promise Saturday to seek setting gas from retail pumps, legislation requiring constant Sure, you can identify a big red accounting by oil companies of when you get to agriculture, which vehicle has a priority standing?"

Oregon's Davis said, "For whatever reason, the federal government became concerned about the problem entirely too late."

The Arab oil embargo only accentuated the situation, and the federal government's failure to act quickly may be responsible for the deep-rooted conviction that the energy crisis is not real, Davis said.

The new mandatory allocation program that went into effect last week was called more effective than earlier efforts by some energy officials.

Louisiana's energy coordinator, Fritz Spencer, said there should not be any service stations closing down once the program gets going, although most will have to cut back operations.

Abortion Controversy Still Rages

NEW YORK (AP) — One year and an estimated 800,000 abortions later, the controversy still rages over the U.S. Supreme Court decision that struck down most laws prohibiting abortions.

Antiabortion groups are pressing for a constitutional amendment that would nullify the decision. In 10 states, they have succeeded in obtaining laws that limit the circumstances under which abortions may be performed.

Their success has begun to worry those who regarded the court decision as a long-needed reform.

"It's a very serious situation and we are considerably worried about these antiabortion moves," Lawrence Lader, chairman of the National Abortion Rights Action League, said in an interview.

"We were caught short by the success of the opposition's efforts," he said. "It's hard for people to realize that it is possible for a Supreme Court decision to be overturned."

The court decision, issued a year ago today, said that state laws prohibiting abortion in the first three months of pregnancy were unconstitutional. Abortions after the first three months were declared legal but subject to state regulation.

At the time, an estimated one million women a year had been undergoing illegal abortions in secret, often under conditions that endangered their health. In the year since, the Population Council estimates that 800,000 women have had abortions under supervised medical care in hospitals and clinics.

Opposition to the abortion decision is spearheaded by the National Right to Life Committee and its several hundred affiliates throughout the nation.

The group is behind the current lobbying effort in Washington. The national committee has new offices, a larger staff and is planning to spend more than $1 million in 1974. It has established a newsletter with a pilot edition that went to 800,000 persons.

Lader says his group, the largest proabortion organization, will be lucky to raise $60,000 in the next six months.

Right to Life groups are supporting a constitutional amendment sponsored by Sen. James L. Buckley, R-Con.-N.Y., and now pending before a Senate subcommittee. The proposal would extend the Constitution's protection for "persons" to "all human beings, including their unborn offspring, at every stage of their biological development, irrespective of age, health, function or condition of dependency."

The amendment would effectively ban most abortions, but it contains a clause that would allow one if medically necessary to save a woman's life.

REP. HAMILTON FISH JR.

Dinner Is Set In Glasco

GLASCO

Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. and First Assistant District Attorney Ellen G. Donovan will be guest speakers Sat., Jan. 26 at the annual dinner of the Glasco Fire Company, Glasco Fire Hall, Liberty Street, Glasco, at 7:30 p.m.

Congressman Fish is expected to speak concerning the many issues before the Congress in 1974 and Miss Donovan will talk concerning consumer frauds.

All members are invited to attend the dinner which will be prepared by the Glasco Ladies Fire Auxiliary.

Fireman John D. Krusher is chairman of the affair and Joseph Roche is co-chairman. Chairmen for the auxiliary's plans are Mrs. June Pawlows and Mrs. Shirley Ebel.

New officers will be installed and any male senior residents of the Glasco Fire District are invited to attend.

Meeting Rescheduled Tonight

SAUGERTIES

Eugene Eccli, professor of alternative sources of energy at the State University College at New Paltz, will be guest speaker at rescheduled meeting of the League of Women Voters of Saugerties tonight 8 p.m. at the Sawyer Savings Bank Community Room, Market Street and Ulster Avenue, Saugerties.

Mrs. Albert Allen, League environmental study chairman, issued an invitation to the public to attend the talk, saying Eccli's talk will be especially informative in view of the present energy crisis and the uncertainty about sources of energy in the future.

Classes Are Suspended for Thursday

SAUGERTIES

Regular classes for grades 10 through 12 at Saugerties Senior High School will be suspended Thursday, Jan. 24, for Regents and midterm final examinations.

In addition to normal bus schedules, a special mid-day bus run will be provided for students having tests for a half day only. Students should contact their regular bus drivers if they wish to take advantage of the added mid-day bus schedule.

Regular classes resume on Friday, Jan. 25.

Historical Session Planned

The Mountain Top Historical Society will meet Thursday, Jan. 24, at 8 p.m. at the Hunter Elementary School with Vernon Haskins as guest speaker.

Haskins, who is president of the Durham Museum Association, chose as the topic of his address "Forty Years as a Highwayman." He will share with the audience his personal reflections on his experiences during the 40 years prior to his recent retirement. Tied in with these reminiscences will be glimpses at local historical events.

Haskins was instrumental in the founding of the Durham Museum Association and for many years has been the museum's curator.

The Rev. Dr. Ronald V. Fleming, president of the Mountain Top Historical Society, invites the public to attend.

Refreshments will be served.

CONVENTION TOPICS — A wide range of topics relating to the forthcoming annual convention of the National Association of Home Builders highlighted the recent meeting of the Hudson Valley organization. Melville Arron (L) of Newburgh, president of the area group, discusses some of the plans with A. John Ferdinand (C) of Monroe, first vice-president and John T. McManus of Marlboro, the second vice-president. The annual convention will be held later this month in Houston, Tex. Other meeting highlights concerned the problems currently facing the building industry.

Savings League Elects Frank

SCARSDALE assets of $14 billion. The Frank and Sernat, counsel to chairman of the League's F. Alexander Frank, chair League's headquarters are in Woodside Savings. Associated with the savings and loan business for more than 25 years, Frank has been active in the industry on both the state and national levels and has been a leader in urban renewal programs in Brooklyn and the Bronx. In addition to serving as a director of the Savings Association League, he is a member of the law firm of Frank, Sernat, counsel to chairman of the League's Legislative Committee and a member of the Executive and Restructure Committees. On the national level, Frank serves as a member of the Legislative Committees of both major savings and loan trade organizations — the U.S. League of Savings Association and the National League of Insured Savings Associations. Born in Elmhurst, Queens, Frank, 57, received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from Amherst College and Master's Degree in government and international relations from Columbia University. He is a graduate of Columbia Law School and was admitted to the New York State Bar in 1942. He is a member of the Queens Chamber of Commerce, the American Bar Association, the Queens Bar Association and the American Savings and Loan Institute.

Grossman School on Feb. 5

BRAINTREE, MASS. In keeping with more than 40 years of company tradition, Grossman's will once again offer its annual free Do It Yourself Home Fix-up School beginning Tuesday night, Feb. 5, at its lumber and building materials store at 428 Ulster Avenue Mall, in Kingston. The five-week course will continue on consecutive Tuesday nights from 7 to 9 p.m. through March 5. This year's free course will begin with instruction on lumber characteristics and basic construction techniques, followed by classes on framing, installing and working with sheetrock and insulation, plus tips on how to select and install doors and windows with energy conservation in mind. Other topics to be covered include roofing, siding, gutters and paint, plus a special session devoted to Evans paneling and other brand name decorator remodeling and repair techniques. A class on plumbing and kitchen cabinets may also be included. Grossman's conducted its first Do-It-Yourself school more than 40 years ago in Quincy, Mass. Today the schools are an annual event at most of the company's 145 stores throughout the Northeast. Through Grossman's chainwide do-it-yourself courses, hundreds of thousands of home handymen and women have learned professional home remodeling and repair techniques from experienced craftsmen.

Uptown Bank Hosts Unusual Art Show

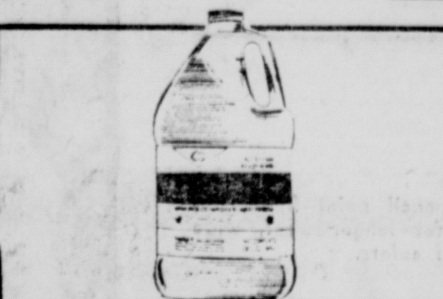

KINGSTON Ulster Savings Bank is hosting an art show in the lobby of the 280 Wall Street bank. The show is made up entirely of paintings done by inmates of the Green Haven Correctional Facility of Dutchess County. Green Haven has always encouraged its resident artists to avail themselves of the opportunity to develop their talent by providing the facilities which enable them to have supplies and to have the proper exposure given their work. The artists at the prison work through the hobby shop which is self-supporting and does not rely on the state for any funds. All frames and paintings are created by the men of the prison. The display is open to the public who are urged to view it during regular banking hours, Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Friday evening 6:30 to 8 p.m.

CALIFORNIA GROWN CORINA

Plump, rich tomatoes grown to red-ripe perfection under the California sun. Simmered in their natural tart-sweet juices to make a hearty tomato paste. Corina. So fresh you can almost taste the sun.

The secret of Mazola's real butter flavor: real butter.

There's just one way to get butter flavor without getting butter fat. With Mazola Margarine.

Because while every margarine claims it tastes like natural butter, only Mazola goes to natural butter to give you that taste. Through a special process we extract just flavor — none of the fat, none of the cholesterol.

And isn't it reassuring to know that the margarine with the good butter taste has goodness from corn oil, too?

Mazola Margarine. Flavor from butter. Goodness from corn oil.

Alpha Portland Is Low Bidder

EASTON, Pa. A subsidiary of Alpha Portland Industries, Inc. was a successful low bidder as a co-venturer in a $54,252,000 contract to build a portion of the New York Subway System, it has been announced by Bernard Richards, president of Alpha. Grow Tunneling Corp., a subsidiary of Alpha's Slattery Associates, Inc., is co-venturer on the project to build a 1,275 foot tunnel through solid rock, 100 feet deep, on East 63rd Street from Fifth Avenue to Park Avenue. The tunnel, which will be used to carry the trains of two New York City lines on two levels, is scheduled for completion in approximately four years. It will eventually serve as a link between the section currently being built under Central Park and the $69.5 million tunnel under the East River, on which Slattery is also a co-venturer.

KINGSTON Statewide Savings and Loan Association recently held its annual meeting of members and H. Van Wyck Darrow, president, submitted his report for the year 1973. He indicated that the year was one of progress for the association and that deposits now exceed $48 million — an all-time high. Darrow announced the reelection of Robert L. Carnright, Robert A. McCaig, Arthur Larsen and Mrs. Beatrice H. Wadlin for three year terms as directors; and also the following promotions: Thomas R. Beckert was elected vice-president and manager of the Saurteries of Virginia K. Baltz was elected vice-president and District Chapter No. 131 of the American Savings and Loan Institute. He resides with his family in Saugerties. Mrs. Baltz, a resident of Kingston and a graduate of Kingston High School, is a member of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer and Ulster Businessmen's Association. She has completed a number of courses in the American Savings and Loan Institute. She joined the association in 1963. Beckert joined the staff of the association in 1968 and is a graduate of Saugerties High School and Siena College. A native of Highland, Dimsey joined the staff of the association in 1972 at the insurance company for 14 years prior to joining the association. He has served as a member of the Saurteries Planning

Sentry Given N.Y. Citation

NEW YORK Sentry Insurance Company, has been given a "Citation of Excellence" by the State of New York Workmen's Compensation Board. The Board annually ranks insurance companies on achievement and performance in workmen's compensation administration. The citation was presented during the annual dinner of the New York Claim Association at the Hotel Roosevelt in New York City. Albert D'Antoni, chairman of the New York Board, said the success of the Workmen's Compensation Program rests largely upon speedy and responsive performance by insurance carriers and self-insurers. Evaluation was based on three categories: promptness in filing employers' reports; promptness of first payment and extent of controversy. Bill Ponton, resident vice-president of Sentry Insurance, said, "We are fortunate when we have an outside authority evaluate and rate our service. We are extremely proud of this award and everyone responsible has my congratulations for their fine performance."

Rosendale Trustee Seeks Reelection

ROSENDALE Rosendale Village Trustee Barbara DeStefano has announced that she will seek reelection to the two-year post in the March village election.

The Democratic committeewoman is seeking a second term having previously defeated Republican Arthur Mulligan.

Mrs. DeStefano's first term was marked by her stand against the proposed $1½ million water project for the village calling it "far too elaborate" for a village the size of Rosendale and asking the people to "vote their pocketbook."

She also made headlines when she was critical of the Conservative Mayor Carl Grassi who she said was "grossly negligent in not disseminating the correspondence from the state to him regarding the maintenance or lack of maintenance to the village flood control project."

Mrs. DeStefano, citing a state report in 1972, said that the condition of the project rendered it ineffective.

Now, she said, since she has become chairman of the project (last April) the project is greatly improved, according to a recent (November) report of the state which said, "we appreciate the village's efforts in exercising its responsibilities in providing back-up services for those items beyond the village's resources. This joint effort will not only develop an attractive project, something in which the village can take pride, but will insure its ability to function during flood emergency periods."

A 14-year resident of Rosendale, Mrs. DeStefano has been a Democratic Committeewoman since 1968 and was elected chairman of the Democratic Committee in 1969 and was unanimously reelected to that post in 1971.

She has also served on the Ulster County Democratic Executive Committee, served as president of the Rosendale PTA for three consecutive terms, and served the Rondout Valley Community Cabinet.

Greeting Card Response Termed 'Good'

KINGSTON The request which Ulster County Association for Mental Health made early in December for donations of new greeting cards with stamped envelopes for use by some of the patients at Hudson River State Hospital received very good response.

The cards were distributed by the staff to those Ulster County patients who do not have visitors to bring cards or who do not have the money to arrange for their purchase.

Dr. Herman B. Snow, director of Hudson River State Hospital, said that because of the concern of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, these patients were able to send greetings home to their families and friends. To be remembered by people from their own community gives our patients a great sense of love, acceptance, and belonging."

The Ulster County Association for Mental Health, located at 27 East O'Reilly Street, Kingston, is a voluntary organization partially funded by the United Way of Ulster County. The association is concerned with promoting good mental health through education. It also maintains information and referral services and provides some voluntary services to patients and their families.

Inquiries concerning its work or membership in the association are always welcome, according to Diana M. Geiger, executive secretary.

Dog License Deadline Set

City Clerk Louis F. DeCicco announced today a final notice to all dog owners in the City of Kingston, that all dogs must be licensed by the end of this month.

All owners of dogs, who have not purchased their dog licenses, will be classified as delinquent and subject to a fine as provided by the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets Law.

Licenses may be obtained at the City Clerk's Office, City Hall, 1 Meadow Street, anytime during working hours, 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., Monday thru Friday, or by mailing applications together with a check and self-addressed stamped envelope to the above address.

The license fee is $2.35 for all male and spayed female dogs and $3.35 for female dogs. The law provides that the City Clerk must issue summons to any dog owner who is delinquent, beginning Feb. 10.

Trustees Laud UCCC Nursing Grads

By CARL GRAHAM

STONE RIDGE
Nursing students at Ulster County Community College exceeded average statewide scores for diploma programs, associate degree programs, and baccalaureate degree programs in the recent professional examination for registered nurses conducted by the State Education Department.

The UCCC Board of Trustees voted a commendation Tuesday night to John Belfiore, chairman of the Nursing Department, and members of his staff after learning results of the statewide test, which was taken by 41 graduates of the college's two-year nursing program.

Dr. George B. Erbstein, UCCC president, said that scores compiled by the 41 graduates had exceeded the norms for diploma, associate, and baccalaureate degree programs and compared favorably with scores compiled by registered nursing candidates from masters' degree programs. Only one UCCC student failed one portion of the five divisions of the test, he noted, saying that the excellent record had been due in part to the school's policy of holding down class loads.

"It may have cost a little more but the results justify it," he told the trustees.

Trustees approved a resolution calling for the school to share use of a large new computer to be purchased and installed by fall by the county. Use of the computer will provide updated classroom instruction for the college's computer data course and aid in administrative data processing and evaluation for the school.

Board members also approved a change in the contract with the Ulster Community College Association, which operates auxiliary services on the campus. The change provides that the agreement be terminated after consultation with the Board of Directors, on 45 days written notice from the college to the Association.

The board accepted, as a gift, amateur radio station equipment presented by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fox of Kingston as a memorial to their daughter, the late Jean Fox. Dr. Erbstein said the college hoped to be able to use her call letters and that Derwin Stevens, associate professor in the Physics Department, would coordinate its use with the Overlook Mountain Amateur Radio Club, and that the school would work closely with the club in connection with the station.

The board also learned that the school has received $10,000 from the estate of the late Marjorie Langley Ryan, to be used for the purchase of books for the Macdonald DeWitt Memorial Library.

Dr. Erbstein said he had requested and had been granted a postponement of the schools' five-year review of accreditation by the Middle States Association. He said he had requested the delay because there will be a new president assuming office in the fall and that the review, originally scheduled for the fall of 1974, had been rescheduled for the spring of 1975.

Dr. Erbstein said that in line with the school's policy of trying to reach more people in the community, basic courses were being conducted for 29 police officers who will graduate March 1, a law enforcement photography workshop was conducted recently for 25 police officers from the county, that two programs at the IBM plant in Kingston will be conducted for personnel there, that the college is planning a special credit course in Principles of Interviewing for caseworkers of the Ulster County Department of Social Services, and that a 32-hour course in conversational German is being conducted for 25 IBM husbands and wives scheduled for transfer to Germany. Another course, English as a Second Language, is being developed for other IBM employees and their wives.

Special Meeting in Ellenville

By WADE BURKHART

ELLENVILLE

The Ellenville Board of Education held a special meeting Tuesday night, but tabled until the next regular meeting the three main items on the agenda, those being a report on the Media Center, consideration of the housing needs of the district, and the appointment of a new board member to fill a vacancy.

The tablings caused some discontented muttering in the crowd of about 40 who attended the meeting. The housing question was tabled after Board Member Adrian Milton said the board had no new information and needed some before taking any action. According to the agenda, the board had a one-hour executive session on housing before the special meeting.

The Media Center was tabled after Board Vice President Jack Siegel said the complete cost figures on the center had not been given to the board. The board has held up purchases for the center until it gets what it considers a complete report on the center's cost and operation, and the authority by which it was set up.

No reason was given for tabling the appointment to the board, necessary to fill the resignation of Dr. Arnold Wolff more than a month ago. Superintendent of Schools Thomas J. Hayden was questioned from the floor by Mrs. Joan Beck about a provision in the Education Law allowing him to appoint a new board member if the school board fails to act within 30 days, but Hayden said he would not do that unless the operation of the board was being hampered by something such as constant tie votes.

The board voted to go ahead with a study by Business Manager Sol Sashin, the administration, and the teachers, of a central mimeographing facility for the district. The idea has been pushed by Board Member Morris Posner, who said Tuesday night that the central facility would have no waste, be faster, and have no confusion. He said there was 1,500 to 2,000 people who would so much waste the way the district was presently handling its mimeographing that the savings in paper could pay for the cost of a full-time person to run the center.

A discussion was held on a strengthened inventory control program, another program of Posner's, designed to keep track of materials in the district which Posner said "have a way of disappearing rapidly."

"We have a lot of vandalism," he said.

The discussion was ended after Sashin described the lack of space in the district's buildings, and the way the supplies had to be diffused throughout the district because there was no space to centrally shelve and store them. "The idea is great, but it takes personnel and adequate room to keep it (the supplies)," said Sashin.

The board had previously voted to adopt permanent personal registration for district elections, and it named a board of registrations Tuesday night and set the pay at $30 per day. Sashin said there were from 1,500 to 2,000 people who would have to be registered in the district, and it would take from the four to six registration days.

The district has $28,458 coming to it for foster children being educated in the district, thanks to a new law, but Hayden said only $2,600 had been received to date. The district was legally able to charge from Jan. 1 of this year for the 53 foster children in it. A foster parent told the board Tuesday night that when a case worker was advised of the tuition bill, which is to be paid by the Social Services Department of the county of origin, he advised the parents to "forget it, throw it away."

Hayden and Board Attorney Benjamin Lonstein said they would pursue the matter until the money was collected.

A group of Cragmoor parents were concerned about their children's bus stop, and Sashin said he would try to correct the problem.

The board approved the awarding of the contracts to the low bidders for the construction of the new library in Ellenville, the building to be called the Joseph Y. Resnick Memorial Building.

WILTWYCK HOSE DINNER — Alderman at-Large T. Robert Gallo (L) and Morton Finch (R) Kingston fire commissioner, joined officers and members of the Wiltwyck Hose Company for their annual dinner held recently at Tommy's Restaurant in Kingston. With Gallo and Finch are Orville Kimbark, company captain, Herbert VanDeusen, president, and John Mahoney, secretary-treasurer. City Fire Chief Robert L. Maines also attended the affair. NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices continued to climb today, extending Tuesday's rise.

The Dow Jones industrial average was up a fraction, and advances led declines on the New York Stock Exchange by more than 2 to 1.

Opening NYSE prices included Florida Gas, down 1/2 to 1 1/2; American Telephone, down 1/2 to 50 1/4; Sony, up 1 to 25 1/4; and Mountain Fuel Supply, which fell 1 1/2 Tuesday, up 1 1/2 to 7 1/2.

Mountain Fuel traded Tuesday for the first time since Jan. 14, following changes by the Utah Public Service Commission in the method of calculating the company's utility rates.

On Tuesday, the Dow rose 8.84 to 863.47 in moderately active trading.

Brokers said the gains were largely the result of Secretary of State Kissinger's optimistic appraisal concerning an early resumption of Arab oil shipments to the United States.

Analysts noted that the market tended to overlook negative news about inflation and signs of an economic slowdown, responding to the more immediate concern of short oil supplies.

Lifting of Embargo May Not Solve Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — An end to the Arab oil embargo, whenever it comes, will not bring an immediate end to the United States' energy problems.

Eric R. Zausner, an assistant administrator of the Federal Energy Office, said in an interview Tuesday that a nagging oil shortage could drag on for months or years after the embargo is lifted.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger indicated Wednesday that the oil cutoff, begun last October, would end before Arab and Israeli troops complete their withdrawals from their confrontation lines in the Middle East.

Kissinger did not say when the oil might start flowing again, but his prediction seemed to suggest within a few months.

Asked how this would affect the U.S. energy crisis, Zausner, the FEO's data-watcher, pointed out that improvement would be as slow to arrive as was the impact of the embargo.

Considering the travel time of oil tankers from the Persian Gulf, it took almost a month for the October start of the embargo to reduce oil imports at U.S. ports, and the full impact was not reached until this month.

Zausner said it probably would take at least four to six weeks or more for Persian Gulf oil to begin reaching the United States once the Arabs release it. He said it could take longer, depending how rapidly Arab oil production returns to past levels.

"It could stretch beyond four to six weeks before we even get back to last September's import level," said Zausner.

From an all-time high of 7.1 million barrels a day in early November, the embargo has cost the United States a drop in imports of about 2.2 million barrels a day and the loss may still be increasing.

Even if the Arabs restored previous shipment levels the United States still would not be getting enough, Zausner said.

"We have to get more oil than the pre-embargo levels to meet our rising demands," said Zausner.

U.S. daily demands for oil increased by 1.5 million barrels, an average increase of 125,000 barrels per day, all of it furnished by foreign oil.

The longer the embargo goes on, the larger will be the demand for increased imports, and the longer it would take for supply to catch up with demand.

'Close, but No Cigar'

KINGSTON Russell Stewart, a pressman at the Freeman, won $125 in the recent New York State Lottery listing.

That's not very newsworthy. What is newsworthy is that Stewart was within one number of $50,000.

"It was a close one," sighed Stewart, reflecting on the fortune that was almost his.

The winning lottery number was 961773. Stewart's number was 961763. He first saw the winning number when he was reading last Thursday's edition of the Freeman during its press run, and it took him three looks, he said, before he saw that he was one off.

He told his wife that evening that they had won some money in the lottery, and when she said that was nice, he pointed to the second seven in the winning number. "Do you see that seven," he asked his wife, as he later related the story.

"Well, that cost us $49,875," Stewart says he buys about three tickets a week, and has won, before last Thursday, $50 once, and five free tickets three times. He bought last Thursday's ticket at a nearby store and said he is going to keep playing undaunted.

"I'm still looking for that seven," he said.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CHANGE IN TELEPHONE RATE SCHEDULES

Notice is hereby given that a proposed clarification in the tariff language pertaining to the Maintenance Service Charge has been filed with the Public Service Commission. The charge applies for each visit made to a subscriber's premises where a service difficulty or trouble report results from subscriber-provided facilities connected to Telephone Company lines. The revised wording states specifically that the charge applies whether the subscriber's equipment is connected in accordance with tariff regulations or not.

The complete text of the regulation is as follows:

Maintenance Service Charge

The subscriber shall be responsible for the payment of a charge of $22.13 per visit by the Telephone Company to the subscriber's premises where a service difficulty or trouble report results from subscriber-provided facilities connected to Telephone Company lines, whether connected in accordance with tariff regulations or not.

The proposed effective date of the revised tariff page is February 1, 1974.

UCCC Course to Study Fault Line

STONE RIDGE, Ulster County, according to ancient fault is believed to underlie the St. Lawrence River, Lake Champlain, the Hudson River, and run through Ulster County into Pennsylvania. Called Logan's Line, this from textbooks in classrooms all around the world. "Students in Ulster County are fortunate in having the actual models only a few miles away in any direction from the campus," says Professor Matson. The textbook for the course contains photographs, maps, illustrations and descriptions of several places in Ulster County. It was written by two respected geologists who are professors at Yale University. The book presents evidence of the latest discoveries such as continental drift, sea-floor spreading and magnetic reversals. The evolution of life and the history of the North American Continent also are explained. Professor Matson reports that many of the local rocks from Ulster County have contributed greatly to the economy of the early republic as they do today. Cement, building block, shale, limestone, gravel, sand and some minerals are well known local geological products. UCCC will hold registration for the spring semester Monday, Jan. 28, and Tuesday, Jan. 29, at the Stone Ridge campus. Students enrolling for the Historical Geology course should previously have taken high school Earth Science or a college science course, or should have a strong science background. Additional information about this or other Earth Science courses may be obtained by telephoning the Department of Earth Sciences at the college.

'Netherlands' Film Scheduled

A "colored film on 'The Netherlands'" will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Jan. 28, at the Stone Ridge campus of Ulster County Community College to acquaint interested persons with a nine-day "lecture" of The Netherlands the College is sponsoring in April. The film will be shown in Room 420 of the John Burroughs Science Building by Leigh Kalna, a district sales representative of KLM — Royal Dutch Airlines. The program is open to the public without charge. At that time Kalna will present information on the lecture running from April 12 to 20. Entitled Netherlands: Ancestral Nation of the Hudson Valley, the lecture will take participants to that part of the Netherlands called Holland from which the early settlers of the Hudson Valley emigrated. Modern air-conditioned touring cars will transport this lecture group to the communities from which the Van Benschotens, Rensselaers, Roosevelts, Vanderbilts, Hardenberghs, Vanderlyns, Van Valkenburghs, Van Kleecks, Van Akens and other early Hudson Valley settlers came. The tour includes transportation to Kennedy Airport in New York, round trip air transportation via KLM to Schiphol Airport, transfers to Amsterdam and accommodations at the Park Hotel in Amsterdam. The tour escort will be Professor Harry Matzen, of the UCCC History Department, an

Spring Session

STONE RIDGE Beginning courses in conversational French and Spanish are planned during evening hours for the Spring Term at Ulster County Community College for the convenience of those unable to register for classes during the day session. Beginning Conversational Spanish I (SPA 199) will be taught on Tuesday night on the Stone Ridge campus by Dolores Kronenberg. The beginning course in Conversational French (FRE 199) will be taught by Jacqueline Francois on Wednesday nights at the College's off-campus evening center at Onteora High School in Boiceville. Both instructors are native speakers. The Conversational French and Spanish classes are open to beginners in speaking French or Spanish as well as to those who may want to brush up on their conversational skills. Both will stress useful dialogs for travelers and for other situations where there is need to converse in French or Spanish. Conversational German II (GER 200) will again be taught on the Stone Ridge campus by Dorothy Willey Tuesday nights. The course will be a continuation of the first semester course but will be open to those who already have some familiarity with conversational German. It will utilize the popular television series "Guten Tag." Interested persons may enroll in a conversational language course for college credit or may register on an audit basis. Registration will take place on the UCCC Stone Ridge campus on Monday, Jan. 28, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and from 6:30-9 p.m. and on Tuesday, Jan. 29, from 6:30-9 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer E. Myers of 15 Harding Avenue in Kingston announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon, to Vincent J. Lawrence Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Lawrence Sr. of 45 Ponckhockie Street, Kingston.

Miss Myers, a 1972 graduate of Kingston High School, is employed by Montgomery Ward Company.

Her fiancé, a 1972 alumnus of KHS, is employed by Kingston Cablevision. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolfgang Adels of Shokan announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Jane, to Wesley McCallum, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles McCallum of 67 Elm Street, Schenectady.

PATRICIA JANE ADELS

Miss Adels, a 1972 graduate of Ontario Central High School in Boiceville, is a music major at Houghton College, Houghton, N.Y.

Her fiancé, a 1972 alumnus of Wesley Academy, Houghton, is attending United Wesleyan College in Allentown, Pa.

A June 15 wedding is planned.

Marriage Announced

The marriage of Miss Myra H. Gerald to Capt. Augustus Rapalje Wilkins (USA Ret.), both of New Paltz, was solemnized at a candlelight ceremony at the United Methodist Church on January 13. The Rev. Craig Haight officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Christie K. Conklin of Poughkeepsie were honor attendants. Mrs. Conklin is a sister to the bride.

The bride wore a gown of azure blue crepe styled with a lace bodice. Mrs. Conklin was attired in a pink gown accented with gold thread.

Mrs. Marion Baumgartner, organist, accompanied Kenneth Baumgartner, baritone, who sang wedding selections.

A dinner party was given at the Ship Lantern in Milton for members of the wedding party and immediate family.

Nuptials Told

Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. Argulewicz of 29 Voorhees Avenue announce the marriage of their daughter, Marilyn T., to Joseph D. Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Caldwell Sr. of Wyandanch, N.Y.

The Rev. John Quinn, chaplain at Brockport State University College, Brockport, officiated at the wedding ceremony Thursday, Jan. 3 at the Newman Oratory.

The bride will graduate from the State University College of Brockport in May, where she is majoring in Nursing.

Her husband will graduate in March from the Rochester Institute of Technology.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell are residing in Rochester.

Mendlesohn Club Announces Concerts for Spring

The Mendelssohn Glee Club has announced its calendar of concerts for the 1974 spring season.

The group's first performance of the year will be given for the Ulster County Cancer Crusade kick-off dinner on Wednesday, Mar. 27 at Holiday Inn, Kingston. This program will feature a special repertoire of light music.

A completely different program will be presented at the annual spring concert slated for Tuesday, May 14 in the Kingston High School. Rounding out the schedule are concerts at East Greenbush, Pleasant Valley and Freedom Plains on April 27, May 6 and May 19, respectively.

President John W. (Jack) Hill has announced the Club, an all-male singing group, will be available throughout the year for short, informal programs up to 30 minutes in length. These "mini-concerts" are something relatively new for the Club. They will be built around the basic program developed for the Cancer Crusade kickoff. Interested clubs and organizations may contact Hill at his residence on Southfield Street in Kingston.

The Mendelssohn Club resumes its regular rehearsals on Monday, Jan. 28 in St. John's Episcopal Church on Albany Avenue. The glee club welcomes anyone with vocal talent and some experience in church choirs or other choral groups. Hill or the club's director, J. Anthony Hummel, may be contacted for membership details.

Instructor for Wine Appreciation Seminar

Kevin Zraly, Mid-Hudson regional director of Les Amis du Vin, a national wine organization, will teach three credit-free Wine Appreciation Seminars at Ulster County Community College this spring.

One seminar will run from Feb. 6 to March 6, another will go from March 13 to April 10 and the third is scheduled for April 24 to May 22. Jan. 30 is the deadline for registrations for the first seminar. The deadlines for the other two seminars are March 6 and April 17, respectively.

The credit-free seminar will be conducted in the appropriate atmosphere of the DePuy Canal House Wine Cellar in High Falls. It is designed to acquaint interested persons with the tastes of a wide variety of French, American, German and Italian wines as well as some of the sparkling and fortified wines.

Mr. Zraly is beverage manager at the DePuy Canal House Tavern and is a graduate of the Grossman Beverage program. He is a member of the American Wine Society and the International Wine and Food Society.

The instructor has toured the most prominent vineyards of New York and California and is presently preparing land at Mohonk for use as an experimental vineyard for the wine producers of the Hudson Valley.

Further information can be obtained by calling the Office for Continuing Education at the College.

Concert Saturday

The Hudson Valley Philharmonic will feature the Concord String Quartet in its second of three winter chamber concerts at Vanderbilt Mansion, Hyde Park, on Saturday at 8:45 p.m.

The Quartet, which was described by the Washington Post as reaching "peak upon peak of excellence," will perform a program consisting of Haydn's String Quartet in C, No. 76 (Emperor), Three Short Pieces by Stravinsky; and Mozart's Viola Quintets in G and C minor featuring Stephanie Baer, violist with the Hudson Valley Philharmonic who is also director of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Music School.

For ticket information contact the HVP Box Office, Poughkeepsie from 9 to 5 p.m. now through Friday. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
© 1974, Emily Post Institute, Inc.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I recently received a legal separation. I am uncertain as to what my social status is. I know, of course, that I am, for the present, unable to marry again. But do I still use my husband's name — "Mrs. John Carlow"? Or do I use "Mrs. Lucy Carlow"? Can I go out with other men, even though I am not exactly "single"? What are the restrictions?

Mrs. Carlow: Since you are still married, you should continue to be addressed by your husband's name on business correspondence and in anything relating to your children, if you have children. But you may refer to yourself by your own first name, "Lucy Carlow" if you prefer, and your friends will probably soon start to do the same.

You may certainly date other men, as long as you adhere to the accepted rules of respectability. However, since you are not free to marry, you must exercise more care in your relationship with them than if you were single. Beware the "rebound"!

Dear Mrs. Post: I would appreciate your answering this question for me: When the groom's father is dead, and his mother gives the rehearsal dinner, who gives the first toast?

Mrs. Cameron: The mother may, if she is not self-conscious about it. If she is, the groom's oldest brother should take over the responsibility. If he has no brothers, an uncle or a godfather would do the "honors".

"So You're Planning to give a Shower!" This booklet tells you everything you need to know for a bridal shower, a welcome party for a new neighbor, the local minister or anyone else. To get a copy, send thirty-five cents in coins to cover booklet and mailing expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Daily Freeman.

PWP Activities

Parents Without Partners will have a family sleigh riding party at Hasbrouck Park on Delaware Avenue, Kingston, Friday at 1 p.m. On Tuesday, Jan. 29 at 8 p.m. there will be a group discussion at the home of Irene Polito. Vivian Schoonmaker of Kingston may be contacted for details and location.

Columbiettes Meeting

Columbiettes of Kingston Council No. 275, Knights of Columbus, held their regular monthly meeting recently. President Betty Sill announced there will be a First Degree at the February 11 meeting. All members were urged to attend. The annual day of recollection will take place at Linwood at a date to be announced.

Reports were submitted by the following committee chairmen: Mrs. Edward Ahl, fraternal; Mrs. Frank Tiano, cheer; Mrs. George Conormon, Catholic Action; Mrs. Joseph Bruno, reported on the successful penny social. A report was given also by Mrs. John Coffey, chairman of the holiday party held at Holiday Inn.

Co-ordinator Richard Fay spoke after the meeting. Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Coffey, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Edward Smith and Mrs. Peter Donovan.

Installation Planned

Clinton Chapter No. 445, Order of Eastern Star, will hold its regular meeting Friday at 7:45 p.m. at Masonic Temple, Albany Avenue, Kingston. Installation of officers will take place. All Stars and Master Masons are invited.

Conserving Energy

The Red Hook Auxiliary No. 7765, VFW, in keeping with this country's energy crisis, has decided instead of the usual two meetings a month, it will now hold only one. This meeting will be held on the second Monday of each month until further notice. Members have also started to ride to official functions in car pools to further help save gas. The deadline is nearing for the collection of Betty Crocker coupons. The goal set by the Auxiliary is 25,000 and members are still a long way from attaining it. Everyone's help is requested.

New Nursery School Formed

A group of concerned parents in the Town of Olive have recognized the need for a nursery school in their growing community. During the past several months they have worked and dedicated themselves to the formation of a cooperative nursery school, one that would benefit the residents of the entire community. The school will be a non-profit, non-discriminatory institution.

Through their independent efforts they have managed to raise the money needed to get the school underway. It will be housed in the Town Building on Mountain Road in Shokan. A certified teacher has been hired, basic equipment acquired, and the necessary legal and insurance work has been completed.

Enrollments for the school are now being accepted. The monthly tuition will be $25. Sessions are now scheduled for Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 9:15 to 11:45, and will begin as soon as sufficient enrollment is reached.

Anyone interested in enrolling their child or in need of more information can contact Elaine Selden, Shokan.

A Program of Music, Poetry Slated

"The Stars Are Our Sisters," a program of music and poetry by women for women, will be presented Friday at 8 p.m. in Marist College's Fireside Lounge, Poughkeepsie.

The program will include poetry readings by Roberta Collier, Margaret Martino, Barbara Jesrani, Lee Rosenfeld, Nancy Thoms and Nancy Willard. Musical selections will be offered by guitarists Kim and Kay, Joan Casamo and Jerilyn Prior.

All area women are invited to this tribute to women. Donations will benefit the Poughkeepsie Women's Center, Inc.

Humans Can't Take All Credit for Group Sex

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
© 1974 by Chicago Tribune
N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: A Mr. A. W. Lyons of Prospect, Ky., wrote to say that man is the only animal that practices group sex. He is mistaken. Probably the best known example is the California sea hare.

Sea hares have a complete set of both male and female sex organs, and can assume either role. In laboratory studies, sea hares have been observed copulating in groups; as many as eight have copulated in a complete circle for as long as three days!

So, please pass this on to Mr. Lyons and your readers. We know of at least one other animal besides man that practices group sex. And wouldn't you know it would have to happen in California!

RICHARD JOSSLIN, Ph.D.
San Pedro, Cal.

DEAR Dr. J.: The orgy you cite is no secret. It's recorded in the Natural History of Marine Animals. And by the way, Jane Goodall, who lived for ten years among wild chimpanzees while she studied them, reported that a female chimp named "Flo" had a battalion of suitors standing in line for her favors, and she accommodated them all — one after the other.

DEAR ABBY: I'm glad you told that 17-year-old girl to save herself for marriage. She said she'd heard that most fellows don't care if the girl they marry is a virgin or not. I am 16, and I have made up my mind that on my wedding night I am going to be able to say to my husband, "Yes, Darling, YOU are the first!"

WAITING IN SEATTLE
DEAR WAITING: Lovely. And someday you may want to say, "And the first shall be the last."

Tiny Tips

To Freshen Rolls

To freshen stale crusty rolls, sprinkle them generously with water and heat in the oven.

Add Lemon Juice

Add a little lemon juice to commercial mayonnaise for refreshing flavor.

Dissolving Cornstarch

Cornstarch should always be dissolved in cold, not hot, water and the mixture should be stirred vigorously until it is smooth.

Don't Do It

Personal grooming — nail clipping, hair combing, ear cleaning — should not be done in public. Some of these are done unconsciously, but your neighbors are very unpleasantly aware.

DEAR ABBY: "Alone and Crying's" story was my story. I too loved my first husband with all my heart until one day he told me he no longer wanted the responsibility of marriage. As it turned out, he wanted the responsibility of another woman.

I also cried and begged and kissed him while he stood there "cold and unfeeling like a statue with his hands in his pockets."

Your advice, "quit begging and prepare to make a new life for yourself because good luck often comes disguised as disaster," was the most precious statement you ever wrote.

A year after my divorce I met the most wonderful man in the world. He is 100 times the man my first husband was. My salvation was getting involved with a good church — Nazarene — and thru its activities came my good luck. Please print this to let "Alone and Crying" know that it's not the end of the world for her. If I could make it, so can she.

LUCKY IN VANCOUVER
DEAR LUCKY: Here's your letter. I hope it's an inspiration to others who've been dealt a low blow.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212 for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

A BREAKFAST of French Toast with a touch of orange flavor will warm the heart and soul as well as the body on these cold winter mornings.

French Toast Warms the Heart

On a snowy day in January, French toast seems to make life warm and cozy. As a breakfast dish, it reigns supreme with early morning eaters of all ages. But who has time to cook or eat such a delightful breakfast on the ordinary run-of-the-mill busy weekday?

So, it's Sunday morning and the whole family is ready to enjoy breakfast together before venturing outside into the winter wonderland. And what's more appropriate than French toast gone glamorous with a tang of orange? Not only is the orange flavor a new wrinkle but there's a special take-off on the usual toast with jelly!

Yes, Orange French Toast Sandwiches are featured for Sunday breakfast. First, the French toast is prepared by dipping slices of toast into large break into a nutritious mixture of milk, eggs and the grated rind of an orange. (Vanilla and a bit of sugar are added for flavor.) The slices are then grilled to a golden brown and raspberry or apricot preserves are used for the sandwich filling. Just before serving, the sandwiches are cut in half diagonally (just for fun) and sprinkled with powdered sugar.

Before the main course, the family might be surprised with freshly squeezed orange juice or fresh orange sections. Meat eaters will like rasher's of bacon 'longside their French toast creation and everyone will partake of hot, steaming, fresh coffee. A big pot of the warming brew allows for seconds, even third helpings, all around. It helps keep everybody warm, whether they're headed for the living room for Sunday paper reading or outside for snowman building, skating or skiing.

Orange French Toast Sandwiches

One loaf Pepperidge Farm Toasting White Bread
Four eggs
One-fourth cup sugar
Two teaspoons vanilla
Three cups milk
Grated rind of one orange.
One-half cup butter or margarine
One cup raspberry or apricot preserves
Confectioner's sugar

Separate slices of bread. In shallow bowl, beat eggs, sugar, vanilla, milk and orange rind until well blended. Dip bread slices into mixture and let soak for one minute. Drain. Heat butter in large skillet or griddle and brown bread slices on both sides. Place half the slices on a platter and spread with preserves. Top with remaining slices. Cut sandwiches into halves diagonally and sprinkle with confectioner's sugar. Serve warm. Serves 6.

Hints From Heloise

HOW TO FRAME YOUR FAMILY FOR 30 YEARS

Dear Heloise:

Ever notice how some favorite snapshots sometimes get stashed away in albums or shoeboxes? I have a way to enjoy mine daily.

I found a rather large picture frame with a glass covering. Then I picked out a variety of snapshots which spanned a period of about 30 years.

I mounted them on a large piece of heavy cardboard with some double-faced tape underneath each picture to keep it in place. Next I placed the glass over it and hung it on the wall to enjoy daily.

LETTER OF CHAGRIN

Dear Folks:

Not being able to reach me when she had called, my neighbor asked me where I had been. I told her I had been shopping at some of the stores.

On hearing that, she exclaimed, "Have you filed for bankruptcy yet?"

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When you fry potatoes that have previously been baked or boiled with their skins on, don't peel them. Cut up the potatoes, skins and all, and you'll have better fried potatoes.

Peanut Frankburgers Surprise

By AILEEN CLAIRE

Got the cooking and eating blahs? Try something new in the sandwich filler line, such as a Peanut Frankburger. This is a combination of high-protein ingredients molded into a surprisingly tasty meat roll. Peanut butter, ground chuck, egg and bacon make up this winning combination. Serve with a favorite soup and fruit for dessert.

Peanut Frankburgers

One pound ground chuck
One small onion, chopped
One-half cup peanut butter
One-half cup chili sauce
One egg
Three slices bread, crumbled
Twelve slices bacon

Six frankfurter buns, toasted
Sliced dill pickles or pickle relish.

Mix chuck, onion, peanut butter, chili sauce, egg and bread. Shape mixture into 6 frankfurter shaped rolls of meat. Wrap each roll in 2 slices of bacon. Place rolls under a broiler and broil until bacon is crisp, turning rolls to brown on all sides. Place in toasted frankfurter buns and top with dill pickles or relish. Makes six servings.

Tiny Tips

Sour Cream

When you are using commercial sour cream in a sauce or gravy, stir gently and as little as possible; over-stirring sometimes thins sour cream.

Cheddar Cheese

Cheddar cheese is sometimes called American cheese. Its color varies from nearly white to orange.

Prune Whip

Prune whip made with cooked prune puree, sugar and whipped cream benefits from adding a little orange-flavor liqueur.

Macaroons

You can dry macaroons for making into crumbs in a slow oven. Cool completely before crushing.

Dissolving Gelatin

Recipes sometimes direct you to dissolve gelatin in liquid over low heat. You can be sure the gelatin is dissolved if there are no visible granules. Always stir the gelatin-liquid mixture while you are dissolving the gelatin.

FLYING GANDER—Rondout Valley's Steve James (15) appears to be suspended in mid-air as he watches flight of ball during first half action at Coleman Tuesday night. Upraised

RVC, Coleman Play for Keeps

By IRA FUSFELD

KINGSTON Both Coleman High School basketball coach Bill DuBois and his rival mentor from Rondout Valley Mickey Million agreed before their teams met Tuesday night that player motivation isn't a problem for them even though the Statesmen and the Ganders are obviously out of the Ulster County Athletic League Division I title chase.

And then, true to the word of their coaches, Coleman and Rondout played a spirited game of basketball, a real race horse contest, which Million's Ganders survived, 58-52.

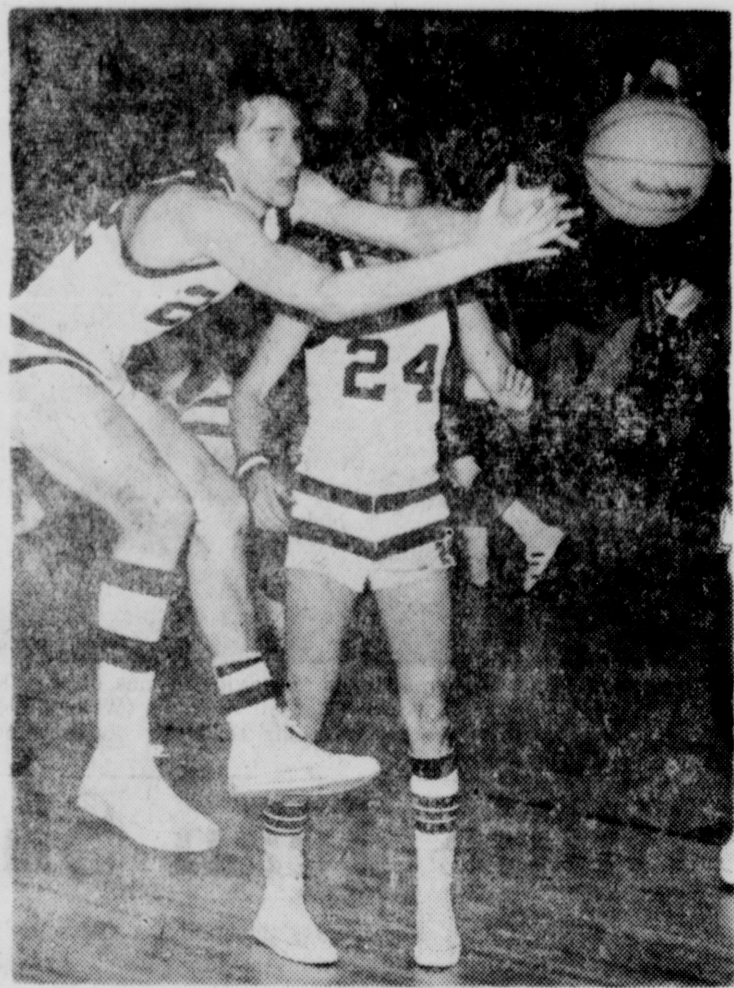

"We like to win every one we can," Million had said before his team rallied twice and then withstood a pressing Coleman defense to take its fifth league game against three defeats. "We feel like we're in every game we play," he added, alluding to what seems to be an overwhelming imbalance in favor of Fallsburgh, Liberty, and Ellenville in Division I.

DuBois agreed: "We want as good a record as we can get. We know we have some limitations, but we go out there to try and win."

As has been the case most of this and past seasons, Coleman was looking up at bigger opponents when it took on Rondout. As usual, however, the Statesmen held their own and in many respects outplayed the Ganders. But Coleman shot a poor 25 per cent from the field on 18 for 72 and all their hard work went down the drain.

"We didn't play all that great, but we didn't play all that badly either," Million noted. When informed of Coleman's field goal percentage he added, "Hey, we'll take them any way we can get them. Coleman played a good game, especially when you see that we had about four inches on every man, but we'll take it."

Coleman did an especially creditable job controlling Rondout's big man, Joe McCall.

REBOUND—Coleman's Ron Weber (22) pulls down rebound as teammate John Carr (24) watches during first half action against Rondout Valley Tuesday night. Ganders won, 58-52. (Freeman photo by Haines)

The Gander center scored 17 points and was unstoppable when it came to tipping in rebounds of his mates' misses. McCall, however, didn't see the ball all that often because of a solid collapsing defense surrounding him.

What hurt Coleman, in addition to its weak outside shooting, where the exceptional efforts of 6-4 Rolf Koola. The blonde-haired senior, who has played in the shadow of his older brother Pistol Pete for so in the first quarter and with John Carr hitting eight of his 10 shots, the Statesmen jumped out to a 17-14 advantage. Six points by Koola enabled Rondout to stay that close.

The game turned around in the second quarter as the Ganders found the answer to the press, got a strong job off the bench from soph Dave Schmelz, and ran off 11 straight points at one stretch in taking a 31-24 lead into the locker room.

DuBois went to the zone press in the third quarter and it quickly got Coleman back onto the game as the Statesmen scored 10 of the first 12 points to go ahead, 34-33. From that point on, the contest remained predictably close.

It all came down to the last half of the fourth quarter when, with the score tied at 50 with 1:55 left, Koola was fouled by Kevin Coughlin and sank both tries despite the howls of the partisan Statesmen fans.

Schmelz then stole a Coleman pass, tossed it to Koola who found Steve James free underneath for an easy deuce. Coughlin made a free throw on the other end of the floor with 41 seconds left putting Coleman back to within three, 54-51. But a layup by James with 21 seconds to play iced the win for Rondout.

The Ganders remained at the top of the lower half of Division I with a 5-3 record. Coleman stayed tied for the cellar with Pine Bush at 3-5. Rondout hosts Ellenville Friday while Coleman goes to Liberty.

In the JV game, Coleman made it eight straight by edging the little Ganders, 54-43. Tony Albany scored 13 for Coleman. Bill Redding of RVC led all scorers with 14.

Comets Pass Another Test; Raiders Rally Past OCS

FALLSBURGH Fallsburgh High took another big hurdle towards sweeping through its first Ulster County Athletic League basketball season unscathed Tuesday night when the high flying Comets knocked aside the challenge of previously undefeated Liberty, 71-53.

Elsewhere in the league, Mike Gilfeather sparked Red Hook to a come-from-behind 64-62 victory over Onteora; Highland dumped Walkill, 73-67; Ellenville breezed past Pine Bush, 68-40; and Marlboro trounced New Paltz, 69-44.

Fallsburgh (8-0) shook off Liberty in the second half when a strong pressing defense held the Indians to a mere 20 points while the Comets were rolling to 40, twelve off the palms of talented Sam Copeland.

The Comets led 20-11 at the end of one quarter, but foul trouble gave Liberty endless opportunities from the free throw stripe. The Indians sank 10 in the second quarter alone to close to within four, 31-27 at the half.

But Liberty did no further free throw shooting after that and Fallsburgh took control for good.

KHS: Listless, Successful

By STEVE KANE

KINGSTON through, then Ray Gay showed 22 rebounds. Kingston High's fifth DCSL his quickness. Picking off four basketball win of the year, a steals, Gay engineered a 20-11 74-52 decision over Roosevelt at Kingston lead.

Never was the outcome in Tuesday night, won't win any prizes. Except for the excitement generated by the officials, it was a pretty listless show. But with undefeated Poughkeepsie slated as Kingston's next visitor, the victory was all that mattered.

Two scoreless minutes foreshadowed the type of action that was in store for another large Field House crowd. It took a goal tending call charged to Kim Anderson to get Roosevelt the game's first points.

That quarter could have been a disasterous one for the Maroons. Bad passes and a sluggish defense had KHS Chambers led Kingston's semi-secure 13 points. Then Pioneers. Meanwhile the play of

Sawyers Leapfrog Into Sixth Place

By DON TREAT

SAUGERTIES High played a game of leapfrog in the DCSL standings Tuesday night, after polishing off Arlington here 62-56. The Sawyer win, combined with Roosevelt's loss to Kingston, moved them by both the Admirals and Presidents into sixth place.

"We're maturing as a team now and seem to be in the right spot, more often," offered winning coach Larry Marcus.

The Sawyers' shooting touch was off but defense and rebounding kept them in command whenever Arlington challenged.

Chris Luley turned in his second consecutive outstanding game, scoring 20 points and pulling down 15 rebounds. His two clutch baskets in the last four minutes broke the Admirals' backs.

Arlington closed to within 55-51 with 3:55 left and the Sawyer lead looked precarious before Luley drove in to score what proved to be the winning bucket. He salted it away for gave, Saugerties a 61-52 lead with 1:25 to go.

Known as a strong outside shooting team, Arlington lived up to its reputation. Scott Glackel and Skip Farrier were the Amiral offense.

Glackel scored 10 points in each half to tie Luley for game honors with 20. He canned six straight free throws during a second quarter Arlington burst which erased a 17-13 Saugerties lead and put the Admirals up 21-17.

With a minute gone in the game it didn't look as if Farrier would score at all: He hurt his ankle after falling heavily to the floor and barely made it off the court.

Although he played the second quarter, Farrier was laboring and managed only a point. In the third period he recovered for a spectacular 14 points.

Farrier's heroics again boosted Arlington out in front but that lead was short lived, as was the one Gleckel produced earlier.

The difference was that the Sawyers kept Arlington's offense outside and allowed very few second chances. Gleckel and Farrier did practically all the damage.

"Our defense and rebounding were outstanding," stressed Marcus. "When you shoot 34 percent you have to make it up somewhere."

Saugerties held a distinct 43-31 edge on rebounds. A good many of those were on the offensive end by Luley and Arnie Hackett.

Hackett fought hard for 18 points and 11 rebounds. Joining Hackett and Luley in double figures, both scoring and rebounding, was Scott Hunter.

Despite a cold shooting hand, Hunter contributed 12 points at key moments and also had 10 caroms. It was also his best defensive effort of the season, as he limited big Billy Southworth to a scant three points.

"Don't forget (Scott) Emery and (Gary) Schnell," said Marcus of his guards. "They don't score much but their defense and floor game makes up for it. Schnell has really cut down on his turnovers."

The Sawyers are rapidly improving and fourth place hopes have been reborn with the last two outings. Even so the immediate future is far from bright.

Saugerties, 3-5, is not scheduled to play again until Tuesday at Poughkeepsie. A team with some momentum always dreads a layoff and the prospects of beating the league leading Pioneers are slim.

With a 2-5 record, the Admirals return to action Friday when they travel to John Jay.

The Sawyer JV's nearly won their first of the season, but Arlington prevailed 65-61.

Barry Leads Rondout

KYSERIKE Tom Barry took his seventh straight dual meet lightweight match to lead Rondout Valley to a 39-15 UCAL wrestling victory over Red Hook Tuesday night.

In other matches, league-leading Onteora trimmed Liberty, 26-12, and Walkkill tripped Pine Bush, 32-20.

Barry, at 100 pounds, pinned

Red Hook's Ken Schwab in 5:30 to get the Ganders off and flying towards their fourth league win against one defeat. RVC is 7-2 overall. Red Hook dropped to 1-2 in the league, 4-2 overall.

Onteora, the defending league champion, had another easy night as it turned aside Liberty, 0-2. The Redskins led briefly when Joe Garretta won the first match by forfeit, but after that Onteora scored in all but two of the other bouts. The winners are 4-0 in UCAL competition.

Coach Ken Brooker picked up his 50th career victory as Walkkill stopped Pine Bush. The Panthers are 2-2 on the season while Pine Bush is winless in three outings.

Ellenville Skiers Split As Kathy Murray Loses

WOODRIDGE Kathy Murray was upset and her Ellenville High girls' ski team was beaten by Liberty Tuesday, but brother Jim Murray won and his first place finish carried the Blue Devil boys to a narrow victory.

Tryntyl Van Slyke outskied Miss Murray, 41 to 43.52 as Liberty won an overwhelming 246.70 to 421.275 girls triumph.

But Jim Murray's 37.5 first, which was 2.2 seconds better than Liberty's Tim Nickou, was pivotal as Ellenville's boys scored their close 215.25 to 215.45 win.

Elsewhere in the Ulster County Athletic League Tuesday, Onteora's meet with Fallsburgh was postponed due to poor slope conditions, and no report was received on the Rondout-New Paltz race.

Staff Completed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bill Arnsparger, the new head coach of the New York Giants, has completed his defensive staff for next season by naming Maxie Baughan as his defensive coordinator and linebacking assistant, Floyd Peters as his defensive line assistant and John Symank as his defensive secondary assistant.

Baughan, a player-coach with the Washington Redskins in 1971, served the last two years as an assistant at Georgia Tech. Peters also was a player-coach at Washington in 1970 and Symank spent the last three years at the University of Texas at Arlington.

Three Assistants

OXFORD, Ohio (UPI) — Three Miami University graduates—Joe Novak, Denny Marcini and Tom Stillwagon—have been hired as assistants to new head football Coach Dick Crum as the Redskins continue to rebuild their staff.

Novak and Marcini have both been highly successful head coaches at Ohio high schools the past two years, while Stillwagon has been an assistant college coach in Kentucky.

Potvin Lone Rookie on NHL All-Stars

SAVE — California Golden Seals' Rick Kessel (L) and goalie Gilles Meloche make save as New York Islander Ed Westfall (R) presses attack during Tuesday night's game. Westfall and rookie defenseman Dennis Potvin were added to the NHL East All-Star team prior to Islanders' 4-3 win, their fourth straight game without a defeat. (UPI)

NEW YORK (AP) — Dennis Potvin thought he was in trouble when New York Islanders Coach Al Arbour called him aside after the Islanders' 4-3 National Hockey League victory Tuesday night over the California Golden Seals.

"I was scared when he called me into the room after the game," Potvin said. "I didn't know what was happening. The only thing that made me feel good was I turned around and saw (Ed) Westfall was behind me."

"So I knew it couldn't be all bad when the team captain was there," Potvin said.

And it wasn't all bad. Arbour called the potlatch to advise Potvin, a rookie, and the veteran Westfall they had been selected to play for the East in the NHL All-Star game Tuesday in Chicago. Potvin was the only rookie selected for either team. This is the third time Westfall has been named to the All-Star squad.

"I feel super about it. It's really, really good.... Even though it's only one game, I'm sure I'll gain a lot of experience playing against top players in the league like that," Potvin said.

"If you remember before the season started, I talked about some goals I had set for myself, but didn't want to talk about them at that time," he said. "One of them was making 10 goals (which he already has done), and the other was making the All-Star game."

The victory was New York's third in the past four games. They tied their previous contest.

Bobby Nystrom scored what turned out to be the winning goal in the third period on a scramble in front of the net to give the Islanders a 4-2 lead. Morris Mott brought the Seals to within one point on a breakaway down the left side.

Andre St. Laurent sent the Islanders into the third period with a 3-2 edge when he skated to the blue line and took a long shot at the 13:08 mark of the second period.

"I'm sure (California goalie Gilles) Meloche didn't even see the puck," Arbour said, "but I'll take them like that, as long as we win."

St. Laurent agreed that the puck probably eluded Meloche entirely, and asked why he took the shot from so far out, he said, tongue-in-cheek. "I was too tired to take it around my man."

Only one thing got past Boston Bruins goalie Gilles Gilbert Tuesday night—and that was of no use to the St. Louis Blues.

Gilbert stopped all 34 shots fired at him by St. Louis as the only thing to enter the Boston cage was Warren Williams of the Blues. Williams had a breakaway early in the third period but Gilbert came out to meet the play and stopped the puck. Williams then sailed over the net and had to be helped from the ice.

Don Marcotte's 12th goal of the season with less than two minutes remaining in the first period was all the Bruins needed as Boston nipped St. Louis, 1-0, to increase its lead in the National Hockey League's East Division to eight points over second-place Montreal. The shutout was the second of the season for Gilbert, who will start for the East in next week's All-Star game at Chicago.

In the only other NHL games, the New York Islanders edged California, 4-3, and Philadelphia nipped Vancouver, 3-2.

In the World Hockey Association, Houston beat Los Angeles, 3-1, Chicago downed New England, 5-3, and Jersey topped Edmonton, 6-2.

Rick MacLeish, Bill Barber and Don Saleski each scored goals as the Flyers, who lead the NHL's West, registered their sixth victory in seven starts by beating Vancouver. Reserve goalie Bobby Taylor, making only his third start this season, held the Canucks scoreless until late in the final period.

Larry Lund and Mark Howe scored final-period goals to boost Houston past Los Angeles. Frank Hughes notched the Aeros' first goal while Gary Veneruzzo's 22nd goal accounted for Los Angeles' scoring.

Gene Peacosh's three goals sparked Jersey past Edmonton, 3-1. Chicago downed New England, 5-3, and Jersey topped Edmonton, 6-2.

Saugerties Matmen Fall

FREEDOM PLAINS Saugerties High School's wrestlers made a run at power Arlington here Tuesday, but the host team captured seven of the individual bouts and posted a 32-14 victory. It was only Saugerties' second setback in seven matches.

Only three pins were registered, all by Arlington. The match was close throughout with the widest margin being Bob Mayone's 6-0 decision over the Admirals' Jim Nance in the heavyweight battle.

Herm Knaust got the challenge rolling with a 3-0 nod of Neil Wright in the 100-pound class. Five straight triumphs put Arlington back on top. George Redder and Jim Hallion then won back-to-back for the Sawyers.

Redder topped Bill Thornton, 3-1 in 140, and Hallion bested Chuck Thornton, 2-0 in 147. In the junior varsity match, Saugerties ran its unbeaten dual meet string to seven with The summaries:

Officials' Corner

Editor's note: This column is provided by the Central Hudson Valley Board of the International Association of Approved Officials to help familiarize fans with rules.)

SUBJECT—THE FUMBLE. 1. A fumble is not a dribble. 2. The recovery of a fumble is not a violation. 3. A player may: (a) fumble the ball, pick it up, dribble and then fumble again and recover. However, he may not dribble again. A player may (b) dribble the ball, fumble and then recover. After the recovery he must hold, pass or shoot, but he may not dribble again.

PLAY—Can loss of control occur in the middle of a dribble?

RULING—No. Loss of player control ends a dribble. Consequently, after the player regains control subsequent dribble action is new dribble (illegal) and not a part of original dribble.

PLAY—In the front court of A (the back court of B), A1 passes to A2. B1, attempting to secure the ball, bats it well down court toward B's basket. The ball bounces several times before B1 recovers it in B's front court. B1 then dribbles to his basket and scores.

RULING—Legal. The bat of the ball by B1, in this situation, is not considered part of the dribble. Neither is B1 considered to have control of the ball until he secures it following the bat. As covered by the definition, "a dribble is ball movement caused by a player in control . . ."

Montgomery Ward guarantees its passenger car tires to the original purchaser against premature tread wear-out with the exclusion of tires used commercially—as follows:
PREMATURE TREAD WEAR-OUT
If a Montgomery Ward passenger tire wears down to the top of the tread wear indicators (to 2/32" tread depth) within the period of months or number of miles stated for a given quality of tire, Montgomery Ward will replace the tire for a prorated charge determined by the months or miles of use, whichever serves as basis for the guarantee.
Premature tread wear-out due to malfunction of the suspension system is excluded.
All prorated charges will be based on actual selling price in effect at the time of adjustment of the retail store to which returned or the catalog price in effect at the store or agency to which returned, in either case, including Federal Excise Tax.
For adjustments under this guarantee, return tire with the guarantee booklet issued at the time of purchase to any Montgomery Ward branch.
*Commercial use is defined as use on any vehicle for other than family or personal use.
Due to the importance of proper vehicle maintenance in delivering stated mileage, Montgomery Ward will rotate tires purchased at retail or catalog stores having installation facilities free of charge, every 5,000 miles. Wheel alignment and wheel balance may be checked at that time.
Montgomery Ward will repair nail punctures free of charge for the full term of the tread wear-out guarantee.

'Howard Has Moved... No Forwarding Address'

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—A legal effort to notify billionaire Howard Hughes he's wanted in court to face grand jury indictments has resulted in returned letters marked, "Moved, left no address."

But U.S. Attorney Devoe Heatin said Tuesday a warrant for his arrest could be issued if Hughes fails to appear as ordered Friday for arraignment on stock manipulation and conspiracy charges.

Hughes' attorneys have sought dismissal of the charges, saying they lacked substance. A nine-count indictment accuses the reclusive Hughes, now believed living in the Bahamas, and others, to pressure directors of Air West Airlines into selling by forcing down the value of company stock. The indictments also charge harassment by lawsuit threats against Air West directors.

Two summonses were sent to Hughes at his last known address, the Summa Corp. in Las Vegas. The first was

Higher Beef Prices Loom For New York Shoppers

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—New York shoppers will pay more for beef because of seasonal wholesale price increases ranging to 20 cents per pound, three food market executives said Tuesday.

But it was not certain how much of the wholesale increase would find its way to market shelves.

Price increases "vary from item to item," said James Anderson, sales director of 66 A&P stores in eastern New York, western Massachusetts and Vermont.

But Anderson, when asked whether all of the wholesale increases would be passed to consumers, replied, "We have no choice." Wholesale prices have jumped 10 per cent in the past few weeks, he said.

"We can't absorb many cost increases," said Ralph Lytle, vice president of 140 Grand Union stores in Vermont, western Massachusetts and New York.

"We're pretty well held in by our competition. We might want to raise prices but we don't raise them until our competition raises them. We all lose money together."

Some retail prices were raised this week, he said. But Neil Golub, vice president of the 34-store Price Chopper chain, said, "Our feeling is we're trying to retain some stability."

Woman Injured In Accident

WEST PARK—A 22-year-old Milton woman was listed in satisfactory condition today in Vassar Brothers Hospital after suffering injuries Tuesday in a one-car accident on Route 9W in West Park.

Highland State Police said Christine Weston was driving on Route 9W at about 8:30 a.m. when her car reportedly hit a patch of ice and skidded into a bridge abutment for a railroad overpass.

She was rushed from the scene by Doctor's Ambulance. No summonses were issued.

Two Charged

Todd Hartzell, 20, of 1109 Brown Street, Peekskill, was charged with petit larceny Tuesday night after he was caught by security personnel at Sears in Kingston allegedly leaving the store with $16.71 worth of merchandise. Sears security personnel also nabbed a 15-year-old who had allegedly left the store with $14 worth of items. The boy was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Applications For Seniors

Applications for apartments are being received by the Kingston Housing Authority from senior citizen couples living in the city.

Alexander Yosman, KHA executive director, said that the Authority will receive funding for 100 units of senior citizen housing applied for last year. The Authority would like to update its files to determine how many of these units should be allocated for elderly couples.

"Rentals for qualifying couples average about $55 a month for a 3 1/2-room apartment with all utilities included," Yosman noted.

Applications may be obtained at the KHA office at Colonial Gardens on Flatbush Avenue or by calling 338-4856.

Your Horoscope

Thursday, January 24

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day to extend your activities beyond their present boundaries. Get together with persons to whom you are drawn in friendship and unite your efforts in making plans for the future. Be as outgoing as possible.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Strive for your personal aims and get the support of higher-ups. Express your fine talents. Show more affection for mate tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Planning a trip that is important to your well-being is wise. You can now advance along lines that are different from the usual.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Make new acquaintances who can be helpful to you in the future. Apply yourself with confidence and gain the aims you have in mind.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you compliment the one you love, you find you can come to a far better understanding. Improve your relations with associates.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Work on the policy level with associates and get right results for the days ahead. Good day for work with the public in general.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you listen more closely to what your partners have to say, you can reach a mutual understanding. Take health treatments.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Plan the recreation you enjoy with congenials during spare time. Bring your talent to higher-ups and gain the support you need.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Find the right method through which to have greater rapport at home. Show wisdom in any sales or purchases you make today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can communicate with any associates you want to be part of your life in the future. Avoid one who opposes you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Use good judgment in modernizing your property. Consult with experts if you have monetary problems. Relax at home tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Engage in activities that motivate you to do your best. A social affair you planned can be a great success. Help one in need.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Follow your intuition as well as the advice of experts if you are to improve your present position in life. Show devotion to mate.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those talented young people who requires good academic training and fine religious training in order to make the most of the gifts that are plentiful here. There can be real fame and wealth in this chart. Your progeny can make a great contribution in the field of social service.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU! Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for February is now ready. Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

KISSING: (Q) I have never done anything really bad or that my parents wouldn't want me to do. But now I feel I have done something wrong. My boyfriend kisses me about once or twice a day just to show me he still likes me.

I like him a lot but I have been feeling guilty lately and want your opinion on whether I am doing wrong. — 14 in Florida.

(A.) You should not do anything with a boy that leaves you feeling guilty or uncomfortable in your mind. I have a feeling that what bothers you is not kissing itself but the number of kisses, or maybe the kind of kisses.

Two kisses a day, regularly, are quite a lot of kisses for 14-year-olds. If they are heavy kisses too, your discomfort is understandable.

CONDITION: (Q) Last night I met this groovy boy at a dance. He offered to drive me home and I said yes, provided there wasn't any messing around and we went straight home. At first he said O.K. but then he said I lived too far and he had to get home early.

I'm so depressed because this is not the first time something like this has happened. Please tell me what to do so I won't end up an old maid.—No Ride in Rhode Island.

(A.) You were honest and I commend you for it. But you might find less abrupt methods of being honest, ways that won't lead boys to conclude mistakenly that you are cold or hostile (as this boy may have concluded).

You could say in such a situation, "I already have a ride, but thank you a lot." Then you could give the boy your phone number and ask him to call you some time.

Through conversations on the phone before dating a girl and a boy can find out more about each other's attitudes. A boy can find out, for instance, that a girl can be warm and friendly but still have strict rules.

Israel Begins Its Disengagement From Egypt

By United Press International

Military sources in Jerusalem said today Israel has begun withdrawing heavy equipment from Egypt and started clearing an estimated 750,000 mines laid down near the Suez Canal since the 1973 Middle East War.

Egypt called on hesitant Syrian and Palestinian leaders today to join in a united front to negotiate a peace settlement with Israel and end the quarter-century Middle East conflict.

Military sources in Jerusalem said the removal of the heavy equipment from the west bank of the Suez Canal was the first step in a general withdrawal to begin Friday from an area south of the Cairo-Suez highway.

The sources said the recovery of the land mines was being carried out on a crash basis so all of them would be retrieved within the 28 day time limit set by Israel's withdrawal from the west bank of the canal.

They said the mines would be reconditioned for use on Israel's new cease-fire lines.

The disengagement agreement, worked out by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger last week, was approved by Israel's parliament Tuesday over objections from the opposition political bloc.

The Israelis have agreed to pull back their forces into the Sinai 13 miles east of the waterway in exchange for a thinning of Egyptian troops along the canal's east bank.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al Ahran called today on Syria and the Palestinians to adopt a position of "solidarity and cooperation" with Egypt in these moments of destiny.

Al Ahran, which often reflects government opinion in Egypt, said Syria should follow the Cairo government in working out a troop pullback agreement with Israel.

"Cairo holds now that the disengagement of troops along the Syrian front is an important question that should be solved," the newspaper said. "After that, the confrontation states and the Palestinian resistance movement could go to the Geneva conference with a unified Arab stand and a unified strategy."

In Jerusalem, Prime Minister Golda Meir's government overcame a rightist challenge Tuesday and won parliamentary support for the Israeli-Egyptian troop pullback accord.

Mrs. Meir's three-party coalition, backed by such disparate legislators as Communists, religious Jews and Arabs, won a 76-35 endorsement for the withdrawal agreement.

The rightist Likud bloc, which made major gains in last month's national elections, cast all the opposing votes in its first challenge to Mrs. Meir.

U.S. Civilian Still Missing

SAIGON (UPI) — The U.S. government promised today to exert "every effort" to get back an American civilian lost in the Paracel Islands when Chinese forces seized the disputed archipelago from South Vietnam last weekend.

The Saigon command said today a Dutch cargo ship picked up 23 survivors of a South Vietnamese patrol boat hit and apparently sunk by Chinese warships during fighting for the chain of islands in the South China Sea.

In Cambodia, field reports told of heavy fighting today for a small village two miles from President Lon Nol's government palace. Rebel gunners fired three Soviet-made rockets ship making a routine inspection of the Paracels at the time Chinese huts were sighted on one of the islands.

When fighting began Saturday he was put ashore on Pattle Island, garrisoned by a 120-man company, the largest Vietnamese force in the region. The officials said he has not been seen since.

The Saigon command said the Dutch merchant ship Kopionella picked up 23 survivors of a government patrol boat believed hit by sea-to-sea missiles during the weekend battles.

Military sources said the killing 20 defenders and wounded survivors, clinging to life vests and rafts, were taken Tuesday evening from the choppy

Coal, Railway Strikes Loom in Britain

LONDON (UPI) — Coal crisis meeting of its executive committee Thursday to look into the possibility of escalating a two-month-old slowdown into a strike.

"A strike is very much on the cards now," Joe Gormley, head of miners, said Tuesday. "I am damned sure they will back the executive committee if it calls for a strike."

Heath, asked about the strike threat, said, "This means he is thinking of damaging the country and damaging his fellow trade unionists."

"I hope an all-out strike will not occur," Derek Ezra, chairman of the state-run National Union of Mineworkers called a Coal Board, said Tuesday. "I calating their overtime ban into believe it will not occur."

Gormley said his union would refuse to meet with government engineers might now demand negotiators for pay talks unless Heath approves a new pay offer. The miners have demanded hikes of 30 to 35 per cent, but the Coal Board has refused to offer more than 16.5.

In Britain's other major dispute, talks broke down Tuesday between the nation's 29,000 trainmen and the British Railways Board.

Negotiators said the deadlock killed any prospect of an early accord and increased the chances of the trainmen es-

Snow Slide Buries Motel Complex

TERRACE, B.C. (UPI) — As many as 15 persons may have been inside at the time. Rescue workers and dogs today dug through tons of snow to find the "Northroute" truck Mounted Police (RCMP) said survivor were found Tuesday. The isolated site is 28 miles west of Terrace and 850 miles north of Vancouver.

Volkmar Zobel, a 30-year-old truck driver, was found alive beneath about 10 feet of snow, RCMP Sgt. Robert Dearmond said, adding, "It was a miracle he survived."

He said Zobel told police he saw five or six persons in the coffee shop before the slide hit. Others could have been in the service station or the small motel next door.

Dearmond said chances were

An Early Start

HOUSTON (UPI) — The USS New Orleans, the ship assigned to recover the three Skylab 3 astronauts, has been ordered to leave for its rendezvous at the splashdown area three days early. Space officials emphasized this does not mean the flight will end prematurely.

The USS New Orleans is expected to arrive tonight from San Diego from its splashdown rehearsal cruise. The Defense Department ordered it to leave Saturday for the recovery area off the coast of Baja, California. Originally, it was scheduled to leave next Tuesday.

"Do not construe that to mean we're coming down early," Skylab program director William C. Schneider said. "This is to give ourselves a little more flexibility."

Schneider said Tuesday he's still optimistic the vital controlling gyroscope that's been acting up on Skylab 3 will survive the rest of the planned 84-day flight.
